NEW PROBES BEGUN UNDER TARIFF LAW

Try to Find Differences Between Production Cost in U. S. and Abroad

QUIZ ON OIL OUTPUT

Try to Get Information of General Character to Guide Congress

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1930, By Post Pub. Co.
Washington (CPA)—Although the tariff commission is to be reorganized, investigations are already under way under the new law seeking to find the differences in the cost of production in this country and abroad on important commodities.

The tariff commission is directed under the law recently signed by the president to find out the approximate cost per barrel to the oil refiners located on the Atlantic seaboard of crude petroleum delivered to them from the oil fields of the United States during the three years preceding 1930 and the present approximate average cost per barrel from Venezuela delivered to the same point.

This is all part of the recent discussion of the question of a duty on oil which divided congress so sharply.

Reports on this investigation must be submitted by February of next year and the facts are to be certified to the senate and the house for their information. Undoubtedly the reports though to be sure it is not likely that any action will be taken by congress at its next session which ends March 4 next.

Another inquiry undertaken by the tariff commission on the general subject of valuation to determine what would have been the rates had been applied on the basis of domestic value. The purpose of this inquiry to get information of a general character for the guidance of congress.

ASKS THIRD INQUIRY

Chairman Hawley of the ways and means committee, has requested a third investigation to determine whether or not coal produced under convict labor in Russia may be imported into the United States without contradicting certain provisions of the new tariff law.

Entirely apart from these three inquiries the commission is already at work on the facts in connection with the 17 commodities specified in the resolution sponsored by Senator Borah of Idaho to determine whether the flexible provisions of the new law are really going to be flexible.

The chief difficulty with tariff making in congress has been politics and the tariff commission consisting of men with pronounced political views has also been criticized for the same thing. What Mr. Hoover hopes to accomplish is to select such outstanding men as are now members of the Interstate Commerce commission so that decisions may be rendered on the basis of differences in cost of production and other essential facts rather than upon the political effects or desires of individual interest.

DAYLIGHT SAVING PLAN HAS O. K. IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee (CP)—Daylight saving will go into effect in Milwaukee Sunday morning.

A temporary injunction preventing use of the altered time was set aside by Circuit Judge Otto H. Breidenbach today. The ruling followed several weeks of public discussion, and finally several days of court argument.

The plan is effective for firms, corporations, companies and groups that have planned observance of the daylight plan. They have asked them to move their clocks ahead one hour at 1 o'clock a. m. Sunday. Judge Breidenbach's decision does not end litigation on the matter, but expected to make it practically impossible to prevent observance of daylight saving this summer. Enthusiasm for the plan said it would continue in operation through August.

ZUEHLKE MAY BE NEXT HEAD OF VETERANS

Appleton Man Said to Be First Choice of Con- vention Delegates

Featured by the arrival of Governor Fred W. Greene of Michigan, national commander, and the conferring upon him of honorary membership in the Wisconsin department, the convention of Spanish war veterans entered the second day of its annual encampment with 194 registered delegates in attendance.

The first action of the veteran's meeting, called to order at the Eagles hall at 9:30 this morning, was the presentation of past department commander honor jewel to W. W. Kradwell, Racine, in recognition of his achievement while at that post. In response, Kradwell praised the efficiency of his staff for much of the success of his regime.

Commander Oberberger reported on the activity of the department in securing the national convention for Milwaukee in 1932. Many states have assured him that they will support the Wisconsin city's candidacy. A citizen's committee of Milwaukee has volunteered funds for the convention expenses, according to Oberberger and Gov. Kohler has pledged the support of the state to the move.

MILWAUKEE MAKES BID

Representatives of the department will be given a certified check for $1,000 by the Milwaukee chamber of commerce, for promotion expenses at the convention to be held in August at Philadelphia. A music fund is also being raised, through the efforts of state camps, to cover the expenses of a band for the Wisconsin contingent at the Philadelphia convention.

Oberberger says that the campaign, featuring the larger beer that "made Milwaukee famous" seems to be eliciting an interested and enthusiastic response from all quarters, and holds high hopes for Wisconsin's success in the venture.

The by-laws of the organization, accepted at previous conventions, were set aside, by a vote of the body, for the remainder of the sessions, because of unworkability of the business machinery it sets up. They will be disregarded until they are revised and approved by the national officers.

GREENE ARRIVES

Governor Greene arrived at 10:35 and was greeted with an enthusiasm that swayed the veterans to their feet in an effusive demonstration lasting nearly half an hour.

TEXAS MOB FAILS IN LYNCHING RAID

Negro Spirited from Jail and Rushed to Another City by Automobile

Port Arthur, Texas (CP)—A mob of approximately 200 persons failed in an attempt here today to lynch Ray Williams, 28, Negro, who has confessed to eight attacks upon white women within the last 30 days.

While officers fought off the mob gathered around the city hall where Williams had been held in jail, Chief of Police M. B. Word succeeded in sliding the Negro down the pole in the fire station in the rubble seat of Fire Chief Enright's car. After several shots were fired into the air to drive the mob back, the car roared away headed for Beaumont where the officers planned to jail the Negro for safekeeping.

Williams was arrested last night after a 24-hour man hunt for the attacker of a young white couple Wednesday night.

After he had confessed, a mob began milling about the city hall this morning discussing methods of seizing Williams.

Police Chief Word and his officers barricaded themselves in the jail with shotguns and tear gas bombs before effecting the rescue by which the Negro was rushed out of the city.

PRINCE OF WALES TO BE HEARD IN AMERICA

New York (CP)—The prince of Wales is to be heard in America via radio on July 7, the National Broadcasting company announced today.

His speech, to be made at a dinner at the Savoy hotel in London at the annual banquet of the National Union of Students, will be brought across the Atlantic and retransmitted to the American coast to coast network. The broadcast is to last 15 minutes, starting at 8:35 p. m. (E.S.T.) (2:35 Appleton time).

In Rotary Race

Almon E. Roth, Palo Alto, Calif., (below) today was named president of Rotary International as the result of elections yesterday at Chicago in which he defeated Raymond J. Knoepfel, New York City (above), the other nominee. The vote was 2,216 to 1,119.

HOOSIER SENATOR HITS ARMS TREATY

Robinson Says It "Gravely Imperils Safety and Se- curity of U. S."

Washington (CP)—Rejection of the London naval treaty on the ground that it "very gravely imperils the safety and security of the United States" was urged today by Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana.

"We do not seek war with any power," he said. "We desire only peace with all the world. But we have grave responsibilities resting on our shoulders and if attacked we must be ever prepared to defend our heritage."

Speaking over the National Broadcasting system under auspices of the National Grange, Robinson contended Great Britain had dictated the type of cruisers the American navy might build. He called attention to treaty limitation of 8-inch gun cruisers for which the navy general board has fought.

In support of his argument for more 8-inch gun cruisers, he cited testimony in their favor before the senate foreign relations committee by Rear Admiral Hillary P. Jones.

"We would have been far better off had no treaty whatever been signed," he said.

45 BULLETS USED TO KILL CHICAGO GANGMAN

Cleveland (CP)—Charles Velotta, 28, handsome gangster, was shot and killed early today in the "Little Italy" section.

Velotta died at a hospital from 45 bullet wounds in his body an hour and a half after he was found lying in the street.

Police said Velotta had been the target of the underworld since the double murder of Ernest Yorkell and Jack Brownstein, who came here from Philadelphia to "shake down" bootleggers but who met gang death Oct. 8, 1927.

Velotta had driven Yorkell and Brownstein around the city and introduced them at the gambling places and speakeasies they later tried to shake down, police said and it was considered likely his death resulted from attempts to repeat the extortion scheme.

CHIEF OF CANADIAN W. C. T. U. FOUND DEAD

London, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Gordon Wright, president of the Women's Christian Temperance union in Canada, was found dead in her apartment last night shortly before she was to have appeared as a speaker at a church rally. She was found lying on a couch. Death was believed caused by a heart attack.

Youngstown Steel Merger Court Struggle Delayed By Suicide Of Attorney

Youngstown, Ohio (CP)—Trial of the suit for injunction to prevent merger of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation came to an abrupt halt today when L. A. Manchester, counsel for the Youngstown company shot and killed himself. Motive for Manchester's suicide was not immediately known.

Judge David G. Jenkins was informed Manchester had shot himself as court was being opened for the third day of the trial. He ordered adjournment until Monday.

The shooting took place in Manchester's office. The fact that he was dead was withheld for several minutes.

The dramatic interlude in the trial followed two days of opening statements and introductions of voluminous correspondence files as evidence. The taking of testimony was to start today with J. A. Campbell, veteran chairman of the board for the Youngstown company, on the stand.

Manchester had been associated with Campbell and the Sheet and Tube company since organization of the firm. Until 1917 he handled legal matters for the company while a member of the firm of Hine, Kennedy, Manchester and Ford.

In 1917 he left the law firm to become general counsel of the Youngstown company. He was married and had one daughter.

Mr. Argelsinger, associate general counsel of the Youngstown company, heard the shot with which Manchester killed himself. He rushed into his office, located on the public square, and found the body slumped in a chair at a desk. Manchester had shot himself in the right temple.

Argelsinger declared the suicide was caused by a nervous breakdown due to overwork.

Manchester was born May 6, 1883, at Canfield, Ohio. Until he was 18 years old he remained on the family farm and attended the public schools. Later he was a student at the Northeastern Ohio Normal college, where he was graduated in 1902. He studied law at the University of Michigan, being graduated in 1905. His first year of practice was in partnership with his brother.

Yesterday Manchester received the last of the many honors that have come to him during his years in Youngstown. He was elected president of the Community corporation, which finances 30 Youngstown charities.

In the steel merger trial Manchester was associated with former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, who is acting as chief counsel for the various defendants in the suit.

The suit was brought by Myron C. Wick, Jr., of Cleveland and the International Share corporation as stockholders against the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company and directors, Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland millionaire, is reputed backer of the anti-merger groups.

The merger was voted by the stockholders April 8, 1930, and the present injunction suit seeks to have Mahoning-co common pleas court declare it illegal and void.

Chief Sullivan, advised by victims of the robbery, organized a posse immediately after the holdup yesterday afternoon and chased the robber's car to a place near Camp McCoy, where its trail was lost.

Three of the men entered the bank and forced Tyler D. Barney, cashier, and two tellers, Ethel Smith and Kathryn French, with a patron, W. H. Blyton, to lie on the floor back of the case. A fourth man guarded the entrance to the bank and a fifth sat in an automobile outside. While two robbers rifled cash counters and the vault, the third prodded an elderly woman patron, Mrs. David Wemp, into silence with a gun.

The car was reported carrying a Wisconsin number, 1781 E, issued to Nick Jetrus, Menomonee, Wis., who Tuesday night reported his Buick sedan stolen. The robbers were described as young men of dark complexion.

BULLETIN

Washington (CP)—The senate voted today to restrict the scope of the Hoover Law Enforcement commission's future studies to the dry laws alone.

By 35 to 30, the senate declined to give President Hoover the $250,000 requested for the law enforcement commission and upheld the proposal of Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, limiting this fund to $50,000 and restricting the commission to a study of prohibition enforcement.

Just previously, the senate had voted 30 to 29 for the $250,000 fund on motion of Senator Jones, Republican, Washington. His amendment also would have allowed the commission to continue the general study into law enforcement.

Reconsideration was voted by 33 to 32 on motion of Senator Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, who had not cast a ballot on the original roll call.

THREE KILLED, TWO HURT WHEN BIG ELM CRASHES ON AUTO

Argonne, Wis. (CP)—Three persons, one a seven-year-old girl, were dead today and two women lay critically injured, the result of a huge tree crashing down on a speeding automobile.

Taylor Ingram and Frank Harris were killed instantly, and Ingram's daughter was fatally injured. Mrs. Ingram and Mrs. Harris were in a Laona, Wis., hospital. All were from Alvin, Wis.

The accident occurred near here on Highway 55 yesterday. A passing salesman from Milwaukee, whose identity was not learned, found the crushed automobile, a huge elm on top of it. Ingram and Harris were dead. The girl's back was broken.

The girl died on the way to the hospital. It was reported one of the women was not expected to live. The tree that toppled over on the car was weakened by high winds Thursday.

NOTABLES PRESENT

Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador who had flown from Washington to greet his countrymen, Grover Whalen, high hat and all; Herbert Brookes, commissioner general for Australia in the United States, and the other dignitaries in the welcoming party were swept aside in the human sea.

Finally the three hundred Nassau police won their way through to the plane and escorted the fliers to field headquarters where they were photographed and interviewed, between bursts of cheering, by the press.

An hour after they had landed the party was in open automobiles bound for New York City, a bath, a meal and sleep.

Crowds, lined the streets of the many Long Island towns and cheered as the motor cavalcade swept past.

FOREST-CO CHARGES TO AWAIT KOHLER RETURN

Madison (CP)—A complaint charging Dir. Atty. L. L. Bruemmer of Forest-co with illegal business connections with a public utility company will not be acted upon until Gov. Kohler's return. It was announced at his office today.

Officials at the governor's office refused to divulge the exact nature of the complaint or the complainant. Dispatches from Forest-co said Bruemmer professed ignorance of the complaint and denied illegal connections with any public utility.

BABE RUTH CLOUTS OUT 27TH HOMER OF SEASON

New York (CP)—Babe Ruth continued his assault on his home run record today by clouting his twenty-seventh homer of the year in the third inning of the Yankees' game with the Cleveland Indians. Ruth was the first man to face Walter Miller in the inning.

FOUR PREPARE FOR FLIGHT TO PACIFIC COAST

Atlantic Flight Easier Than Pacific. Squadron Leader Declares

New York (CP)—The Southern Cross fliers will fly to Schenectady, N. Y., tomorrow so that Squadron Leader Kingsford-Smith may talk to his mother and fiancée in Australia by short wave radio.

New York (CP)—Conqueror of Pacific and Atlantic and just 2,500 miles from a complete circumnavigation of the globe, Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith and the crew of the monoplane Southern Cross today were the honored guests of the city of New York.

At dusk last night, 6:30 P. M., the Australian flier set his big biplane down at Roosevelt field, completing a 3,000 mile flight from Port Marnock, Ireland, an epic journey interrupted only by a 24 hour stop for fuel at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland.

"Tired? Not so very. Tired of flying? Not a bit of it. As soon as New York gets telling them what heroes they are they expect to take the Southern Cross on a non-stop flight to Oakland, Calif., completing for Kingsford-Smith a flight around the earth that he started on May 21, 1930.

The Pacific flight was the harder of his two ocean crossings, he said.

"The job of navigating a plane in a tiny spot in the lower ocean in the world is too difficult to try very often," he said. "With the Atlantic we at least knew that all we had to do was keep on going and we were sure to strike a shore. In the Pacific we had to hit a small island, and we knew that if we were the least bit off we'd be lost."

The aviation business thus disposed of the interview turned to more personal things. First, his fiancée, Miss Mary Beall of Australia.

"I'm to be married in September," he said, and grinned to show the prospect was pleasing, "but it won't interfere in the least with my flying. My fiancée likes flying almost as much as I do and she's been up with me lots of times."

Everett van Dyk, big slow spoken copilot on the Atlantic flight, was the only married man among the four. He has a wife and family in Holland.

Captain J. Patrick Saul, Irish widower whose little eight-year-old daughter waits for him back home, also has a fiancée, Miss Lena Marchant of Dublin. Only John W. Stannage, radio operator, could offer on romantic attachments.

At least ten thousand persons waited through the hot afternoon at Roosevelt field for the arrival of the Southern Cross and when it appeared at sunset, threw restraint aside and risked limbs and clothes in a mad dash for the plane and the fliers.

PROSPECTS BRIGHTEN FOR ENDURANCE FLIERS

Chicago (CP)—Confidence that a new world's endurance refueling flight record for airplanes was in the offing pervaded the ground personnel at Sky Harbor airport today as the "City of Chicago" passed its 274th hour aloft at 6:04 a. m., C. D. T.

"The ship sounds pretty" reported one of the checkers in charge of the flight record at that hour. "The motor is good for 700 hours in the air and the boys are going to stay with it as long as the motor does."

A large crowd was at the airport last night to encourage the fliers in their attempt to surpass the 420-hour mark set last year at St. Louis.

WOMAN EXONERATED IN ALABAMA SLAYING

Mobile, Ala. (CP)—Mrs. Gertrude Puckett, who shot Mrs. Francis Hines to death on the night of May 14 when she found Mrs. Hines in the company of her husband, has been exonerated of criminal charges by a grand jury. The killing was the second time Mrs. Puckett had shot Mrs. Hines. The latter was wounded slightly at the Puckett home a few weeks prior to the fatal shooting.

ST. LOUIS BROWNS WIN FIRST GAME, 8 TO 2

Philadelphia (CP)—The St. Louis Browns took the first game of today's double header with the Philadelphia Athletics, 8 to 2. Pitcher Grave scored a home run.

Statesman Dies

STEPHEN G. PORTER

Rep. Porter, Dies After Long Illness

Was Chairman of Foreign Affairs Group and Noted Foe of Narcotics

Pittsburgh (CP)—The brilliant career of Stephen G. Porter, one of the nation's foremost statesmen, is ended.

Mr. Porter died at 2:30 a. m. (eastern daylight time) today in Allegheny General hospital, while in the midst of a long illness.

Mr. Porter was 61 years old, a member of the Pennsylvania congressional delegation, elected into unconsolidated early yesterday and sank rapidly.

Mr. Porter became ill about two months ago. He was stricken while aboard ship enroute from London June 11. He was brought to the hospital from Walter Reed hospital in Washington, D. C., where he died of pneumonia.

Representative Porter was 61 years old. He was a prominent figure in Republican politics of Pennsylvania for the past 20 years and became a national figure at the close of the World war, while congress and the nation sought solution to the economic problems growing out of that conflict.

HELPED RESTORE PEACE

After the Treaty of Versailles was signed, Mr. Porter took a leading part in the conference, which resulted in the Knox-Porter resolutions, forming the basis for restoring diplomatic and commercial relations with Germany and Austria-Hungary.

During the World War President Wilson frequently consulted Mr. Porter on American war policies and President Harding likewise asked of his aid in handling post-war problems. Mr. Harding named the Pennsylvania member of the advisory committee which represented the house of representatives in the Washington conference on the limitation of armaments, as chairman of the American delegation which sat with the league of nations commission seeking to limit the production of opium. Mr. Porter distinguished himself in the fight against the traffic of narcotics.

Mr. Porter was born near Salem, Ohio. Mrs. Porter died in 1919. One daughter survives.

WASHOUT CAUSED WRECK

Toronto, Ont. (CP)—Four persons were killed and twelve injured when a train of the Canadian National railways, bound from Winnipeg to Toronto, was derailed and wrecked four miles east of Capreol, Ont., last night. The wreck was caused by a washout, resulting from unprecedented food conditions, officials of the road said.

BELIEVE SLAYER OF 2 CORNERED BY POSSE

Washington, Iowa (CP)—Thirty members of the cavalry of the Iowa National guard and an equal number of Washington businessmen today rallied in response to call from officers there who said they believed they had the slayer of Sheriff Fred Sweet and Marshal Aaron Bailey cornered in a timber north of there.

The automobile in which the slayer made his escape was found near there last night, and it was learned here that he was believed to have fled into the woods when he abandoned his automobile.

Electric, Hail and Rain Storms Sweep U. S. and Canadian Regions

TRAIN TRAGEDY KILLS 4 Only Dozen Saved from Crew of 42 When Drill Boat Is Shattered

Harbor Grace, N. F. (CP)—Almost a dozen persons were killed, 30 fishing vessels were lost and thousands of dollars damage done by a thunder and lightning storm which raged over this place and vicinity last night.

Forty-eight persons were killed yesterday and last night in electric, hail and rain storms that swept down over Ontario, Newfoundland, and the northeastern section of the United States.

At Brockville, Ont., 30 were killed when lightning fired explosives aboard a drill boat in the St. Lawrence river.

Four passengers were killed and one was believed to have been fatally injured when a passenger coach of a train bound from Winnipeg to Toronto plunged into the flooded Vermilion river at Capreol, Ont.

Also near Capreol, the engineer of a freight train and six men, believed to be tramping stealing rails, were killed as the train ran into a washout and was wrecked.

Several trains were stalled and many motorists were stranded by washouts and washouts at Sudbury, Ont. No lives were lost. A ball four sunk 30 boats at Lunenburg, N. S., and three fishermen were drowned.

Two were drowned when a sail overturned a boat at Buffalo where buildings were unroofed, and a 35.000 barrel oil tank was fired by lightning at Ocean, N. Y.

Lightning killed a 9-year-old girl near Hackettstown, N. J., and a farmer near Carlisle, Pa. Heavy damage was reported in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and other Atlantic seaboard states.

SET OFF BY LIGHTNING

Brockville, Ont. (CP)—Explosion by a bolt of lightning of several charges of dynamite placed in the rocky bed of the St. Lawrence river was blamed today for the death of 30 men, killed when the blast tore the drill boat, J. B. King, to bits.

Only 12 members of the crew of 42 were rescued. These were picked up by the U. S. coastguard 211. Several of them were severely injured.

The drill boat, owned by J. B. King, was enroute to blasting a channel through Brockville narrows off Cookshire Island on the eastern fringe of the Thousand Islands group yesterday when the explosion occurred.

Several holes had been drilled in the rock and filled with dynamite and the day crew was drilling additional holes to place more dynamite when an electrical storm broke over the river about 4:30 p. m. Many of the night shift were asleep below the decks.

Witnesses said they saw a flash of lightning dart down to the boat, followed immediately by a terrific explosion. The air was filled with debris and the drill boat had disappeared.

Underworld Loans To Lingle Center Of Chicago Probe

WHO ADVANCED HIM CASH AND WHY? IS QUERY

Reports of Big Loans to Reporter Center of Mystery to Be Solved

Chicago — (AP) — The law looked today to the lawless for help in solving the Lingle murder.

Into the inquiry of the Tribune reporter's murder had come information of large loans made to Lingle by gambling house keepers. The state's attorney wants to know who made the loans and why.

The borrowings of Lingle, the investigator said, also included sums from Maj. Carlos Ames, president of the city civil service commission and Republican nominee for sheriff. Alderman Bert Cronson, nephew of Corporation Counsel Samuel Ettelson, and from Ettelson himself. There was also the matter of a cancelled check for $500 written by Lingle and cashed by Police Captain Dan Gilbert, in charge of the central police detail.

Gilbert expressed willingness to tell the grand jury about the check. He said Lingle met him one night and said he needed $500. The police officer loaned it to him, and later was repaid by Lingle with the check, made out to "cash."

June 8 — the day of Lingle's murder — Joseph Josephs and Julian (Potatoes) Kaufman had announced the Sheridan Wave club, north side gambling place, was to be reopened. The club had been shut down following the Moran gang massacre of Feb. 14, 1928.

Josephs and Kaufman will be questioned, the authorities said, concerning a reported $15,000 advance "fee" demanded of them to permit the reopening of the club. The gamblers will be asked, too, if it was true that they refused the demand and that as a result a threat was made to "have the joint knocked off by the police the minute it opens."

REMOVALS OF BIG LOANS

The investigators also heard the loans removed to run as much as $20,000 were made to Lingle by Sammy Hare, owner of the Dells Winter club and of the Dells, a roadhouse. The significance of this transaction was not revealed.

The Herald and Examiner said today that authorities had learned that:

Three days before Lingle was killed, police of the state's attorney's office raided and closed the Baltimore Athletic club, a gambling resort that State's Attorney Swanson had personally raided a year ago. The next day Lingle called upon an official of the state's attorney's office and complained that the raid had embarrassed him "because I told them to go ahead and run."

An investigator, according to the Herald and Examiner was told that Lingle demanded a fee of $15,000 to permit the Sheridan Wave to reopen. When this was refused, the investigator was told that Lingle said: "If you open, you'll see more police squad cars than you ever saw together before."

The inference in all the rumor and report concerning gang and gambling connections of the reporter was that Lingle, through his close police connections, was in a position to make or break anyone operating an unlawful "racket." So far as the investigators have revealed, they have as yet no proof of such deals. They know only that Lingle was a close friend of the recent police commissioner, William Russell,

VETERAN BURIED IN POTTERS' FIELD IS HONORED BY LEGION

Milwaukee — (AP) — The body of Harry D. Miller, World war veteran, who was buried in Potters' field here as John Miller, in 1928, was reburied yesterday with full military honors. His relatives were unable to attend. They are in Canada, North Dakota and California.

The American legion traced Miller's improper registration at the request of the widow, who lives in Winnipeg. He died at the Soldiers' home here. The legion aided Col. Charles M. Pearsall, governor of the home, in arranging the military funeral after Mrs. Miller wrote to Pearsall requesting this honor, despite the fact that none of Miller's relatives could witness the burial.

He was 33 years old, formerly a dentist, born at Stockbridge, Wis., and enlisted in the 56th Pioneer Minnesota Infantry at Minneapolis in 1918. He was wounded in the Meuse-Argonne.

DISCUSS COMMUNITY PROMOTION AT MEET

New Chamber Committee Outlines Tentative Program for Coming Year

Latest methods for advertising Appleton and its industries were reviewed by the new chamber of commerce community promotion and publicity committee at a meeting in the chamber offices, Thursday evening, according to H. B. Sylvester, committee chairman, who presided at the session.

The committee also discussed renewal of contracts for signs in the various city limits of Appleton. A special meeting of the group will be held next Tuesday when plans for repairing and repainting chamber of commerce road signs will be discussed.

In a short address delivered to members of the committee, Mr. Sylvester urged that the various members give all of their cooperation to the chamber in a program of community promotion for the coming year.

A special committee was appointed to study road signs, and to submit a report on the needs for sign repair and installation of more road markers.

Members of the committee are: Herbert Sattestrom, chairman; James Balliet, Ray Eichelberger, E. E. Sager and William Helm.

and that he also, through his newspaper work, was well acquainted with many gangsters and gamblers. Corporation Counsel Ettelson denied having made a $5,000 loan to Lingle. Major Ames, however, recalled lending $2,000 at a time Lingle said he was in need of such a sum. Alderman Cronson also recalled making the reporter a loan, but did not remember for how much.

The police department began functioning today in its reorganized form remodeled by the most drastic shakeup in history. John H. Alcock, acting commissioner, issued orders affecting 1,144 men, reducing the personnel of the detective bureau from 874 to 287, and sending the roving detective squads out on the street as patrolmen.

"I am not telling the captains how to run their districts," said Alcock. "They can organize as they see fit. I am telling them simply and forcibly that I want all crime suppressed. The responsibility is directly on them."

CUNNINGHAM STAYS ON JOB AS "DRY" BOSS IN WISCONSIN

Justice Department Leaves Outagamie-co Under Milwaukee Office

Washington — Outagamie county and vicinity will remain under the deputy prohibition administrator at Milwaukee with William F. Cunningham retaining his post there, under the prohibition reorganization announced by the Department of Justice today. Rumors arose recently that Cunningham was to be displaced and that possibly Ray J. Nye, deputy administrator for the western district of Wisconsin at Madison, might succeed him at Milwaukee. Levi Bancroft, United States district attorney at Milwaukee, has long been in disagreement with Cunningham and has recommended that a Wisconsin man be appointed to the post, suggesting that Nye would be satisfactory. Cunningham is from Missouri.

Considerable credence was given this rumor when it was known that the justice department wants deputy administrators to work closely with the district attorneys and it was felt that this would not be possible in Milwaukee under the circumstances.

Both Cunningham and Nye retain their present posts, the justice department announced today.

Wisconsin, which was formerly divided for prohibition enforcement into two parts, the eastern judicial district being under the Chicago office, of which E. C. Yellowley was administrator, and the western judicial district being under the St. Paul office, of which Sigurd B. Quale was administrator, is united in the Seventh district, with Chicago as headquarters, and J. F. J. Houriet as administrator. With Wisconsin in this district are Illinois and Indiana, the other states in the seventh judicial circuit.

The two judicial districts will continue to have their deputy administrators, with headquarters, at present, in Madison for the western district and in Milwaukee for the eastern district. Both deputies will be under Administrator Herbert at Chicago.

This new alignment is considered only a change of enforcement against intoxicating beverages, the administration of permits for industrial alcohol and medicinal liquor remaining under the Treasury Department with no announcement made yet as to any prospects for change in the existing districts.

In each judicial district, the deputy administrator will work closely with the United States district attorney, and the responsibility for prohibition enforcement will rest primarily upon the deputy administrator. The offices of the deputy administrator and the United States attorney will be "closely coordinated to obtain a maximum of efficiency in enforcement work," the Department of Justice said in announcing the new organization plan.

The Eastern judicial district of Wisconsin consists of the following counties:

Brown, Calumet, Dodge, Florence, Fond du Lac, Forest, Green Lake, Kenosha, Kewaunee, Langlade, Manitowish, Marinette, Marquette, Milwaukee, Oconto, Outagamie, Ozaukee, Racine, Shawano, Sheboygan, Walworth, Washington, Waushara, Waupaca, Waushara and Winnebago.

The western judicial districts consists of the rest of the state the following counties:

Dane, Jefferson, Rock, Green, Co

LION AND GRANGE MEMBERS TO DINE

John D. Jones, Jr., Will Be Principal Speaker at Monday Meeting

"The Interdependence of Town and Country" will be the subject of a talk by John D. Jones, Jr., secretary of the National Cheese Institute, and formerly state commissioner of agriculture, when he speaks at a joint meeting of Appleton Lions and farmers at Greenville Grange hall Monday evening.

Mr. Jones was born on the Rancheo farm which he still owns and operates. It was during his administration as agricultural commissioner that the home tuberculosis eradication program under the aegis received its greatest impetus.

As secretary of the National Cheese Institute, Mr. Jones has been active in the program to grade Wisconsin cheese, in order that the better grades might command proper prices.

Wives of Appleton Lions will attend the meeting with their husbands. The evening's program will begin with a dinner at 7:30 to be served by women of Greenville Grange. J. R. Whitman, president of the Lions club will be toastmaster and there will be a short talk by George R. Schaefer, master of Greenville on "What Grange Is?"

The evening's musical program will feature a xylophone solo by Clarence Meltz and Vilas Gehin. The Lions quartet also is to appear on the program.

JAPANESE PRINCESS CHARMS LONDONERS

London — (AP) — Londoners have taken the petite, smiling Princess Takamatsu to their hearts.

Citizens lined the streets in thousands today and cheered heartily as the Japanese prince and princess, with the duke of Gloucester, drove in a state procession from Buckingham palace to Mansion house with an escort of life guards.

The scene in historic Mansion house was brilliant. The lord mayor received the visitors in the midst of a company of dignitaries, in levee attire or brilliant uniforms.

Luncheon was served in the Egyptian hall where the famous mansion house gold plate was used.

LA FOLLETTES HAT IN THE RING BIDS FOR STRONG ELECTION

Call Him "Logical" Candidate for the Progressive Republicans

BY EWALD L. ALMEN
Madison — (AP) — With the announcement by Philip LaFollette that he will be candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, the three main political teams in Wisconsin are ready for an elimination tournament in the primary election.

LaFollette was the last candidate to put his name before the public and he is regarded as his team's ace in the fight for the governorship. LaFollette will attempt to restore the political lines that existed before the advent of Gov. Walter J. Kohler.

Probably no other campaign in Wisconsin's recent history has aroused as much speculation as to his political intentions was this. Some pointed to LaFollette as the "logical" candidate to overthrow the Kohler regime. They weighed his past performances, his illustrious family and the issue and decided that the Progressive-Republican could have no choice.

PLEAD POLITICAL SUICIDE

On the other side of the line appeared those who contended that LaFollette's candidacy would be "political suicide" in view of Gov. Kohler's apparent popularity. They reviewed the huge vote cast for Gov. Kohler in the last election, noted that almost every governor has won re-election and concluded that the younger LaFollette should wait until 1932 rather than jeopardize his political future now.

Evidence points to a great deal more speculation before the voter goes to the polls in September. An exciting campaign, with many and severe clashes, is predicted. The three major political teams in Wisconsin — Progressive — Republican — Democrat — Conservative-Republican

REMODEL ROOMS AT VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Workmen of the Greunke Brothers Construction company are remodeling and repairing several rooms in Appleton vocational school. Several rooms are being divided into two sections, while others are being replastered and redecorated. Numerous repairs also are being made in the corridors and in the machine shops. New bubblers were installed recently.

ASK U. S. TO SET STANDARD METHOD OF MEASURING MESH

Expert Seeks to Determine Which Type Is Most Injurious to Fish

Madison — (AP) — Establishment of a standard uniform method of measuring the mesh of commercial fishing nets has been asked of the United States Bureau of Standards by Dr. John Van Oosten of the Bureau of Fisheries, the conservation commission said today.

Dr. Oosten is conducting a fisheries investigation in Lake Michigan, the prime purpose of which is to determine which type of net is most injurious to immature lake trout. The investigation is a cooperative undertaking by the Bureau of Fisheries, the conservation department of Wisconsin and Michigan and a group of fish net and twine companies.

Enforcement of the commercial fishing laws of the Great Lakes will be greatly simplified by the establishment of a standard system of measuring mesh, in the opinion of the conservation commission. A difference of 1-16 of an inch in the size of mesh in gillnet might mean a difference of several hundred pounds in the total catch of fish.

"The question of the size mesh which destroys the greatest number of immature lake trout is a hotly disputed one upon which neither the various states nor the fishermen can seem to agree," said Dr. Oosten preliminary to starting his work. "The law provides a two and three quarter inch mesh for chubs in Michigan, a two and five-eighths inch mesh in Wisconsin and a two and one-half inch mesh in Illinois and Indiana."

"At each setting of the nets," said Oosten in explaining the investigation, "determinations will be made of the depth of the water, the nature of the bottoms, the temperature at various levels and possibly the chemical condition of the water at several levels in order to obtain some

ARREST TWO OFFICERS OF CINCINNATI BANK

Cincinnati, Ohio — (AP) — A second Cincinnati bank was closed and two of its former officers were under arrest today as a result of the alleged million dollar check kiting operations of A. W. Shafer, discharged district manager for the Henry L. Doherty company.

The failure of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks National bank to open yesterday was followed by the arrests of Lyman E. Norris, former vice president, and Harry Rosenblum, former cashier, on charges of conspiracy to violate the National Banking act. They were held today in default of $25,000 bond each set after they entered pleas of not guilty.

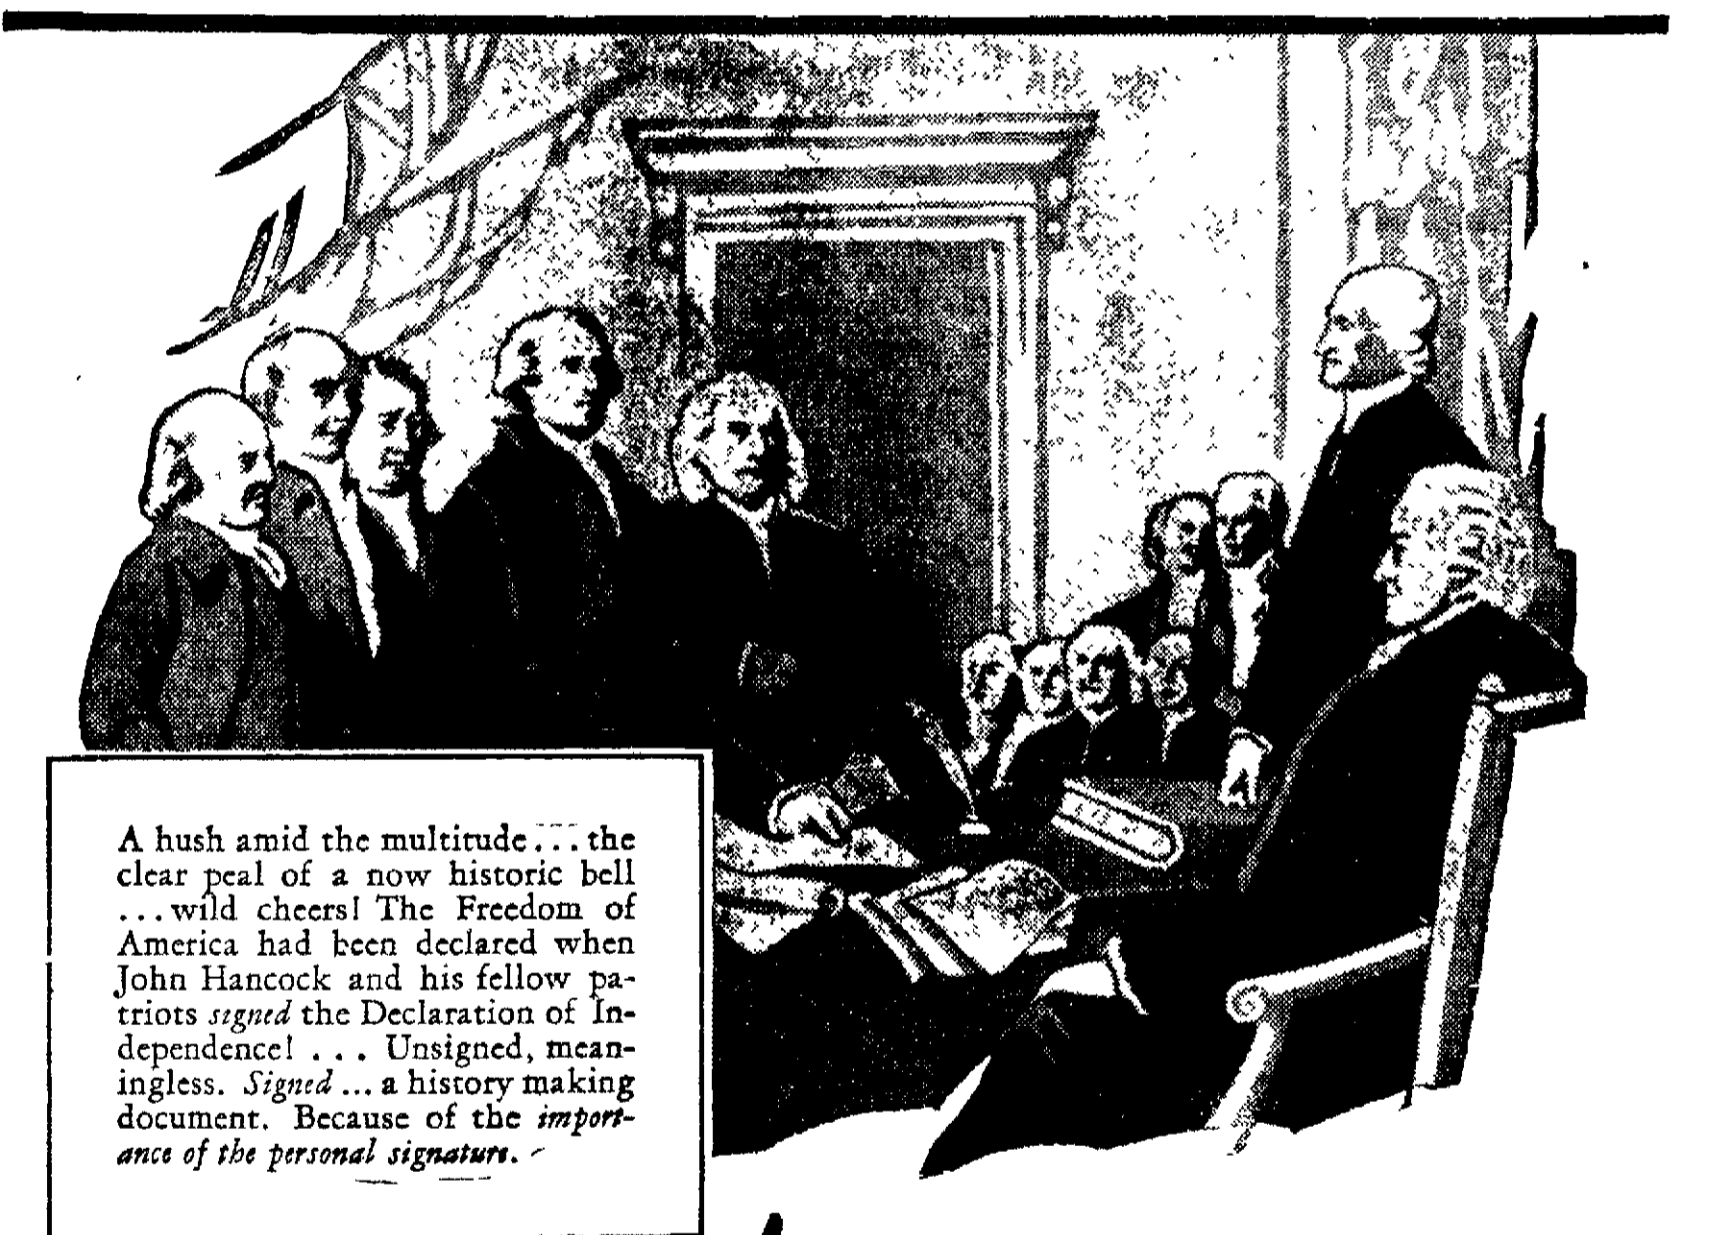

Norris, Rosenblum and Joseph J. Castellini, president, were removed by the directors Monday.

United States District Attorney Havelth L. Mau said Shafer's alleged manipulations were the direct cause of the bank's closing. Shafer, Mau said, had deposited Cities Service collateral being forged, indorsements. It was this stock, reported to amount to between $225,000 and $375,000, that involved Norris and Rosenblum.

data on the factors involved in the distribution of lake trout and chubs.

"Data will be obtained on the food of the lake trout and chubs, on the species or races of lake trout in Lake Michigan and on the life histories of the lake trout and chubs emphasizing their age, growth and size at sexual maturity. Lake trout and whitefish will be marked to determine the extent of their migratory movements."

"At irregular intervals lifts made by the fishermen with their bait nets and hooks will be examined to obtain data on the number of immature chubs destroyed by the bait nets, the amount of chubs wasted by the hook fishermen and the number of immature trout destroyed by hooks. The lifts of the commercial chub nets will also be inspected at irregular intervals for the purpose of comparison with the lifts from the experimental nets."

SCHWARTZ TO BE CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF'S JOB

Six Now Seek Office; Five Are Republicans and One Democrat

Peter G. Schwartz, Appleton, announced Friday that he would be candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff at the primary election in September.

This makes six now seeking the office. Five candidates want the Republican nomination and one is making a bid for the office, on the Democratic ticket. Otto Zuehlke, a former sheriff, was the first to announce his candidacy. He was followed by Sheriff John Lappen, who was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Fred W. Glese, who was removed from office. Then Glese announced he would seek the nomination and he was followed by Barney Hoffman, who was a Democratic candidate in 1928. Martin Verhagen, Kimberly, is the only candidate so far for the Democratic nomination.

Schwartz, who has operated a cheese factory known as the Maple Creek Creamery in the town of Maple Creek for the last several months, sold that business last week to Walter Kading, of the town of Center. Mr. Schwartz took over this business on the death of his son, Earl, seven months ago. His son operated the factory for about a year and a half. Schwartz served the county as sheriff in 1921 and 1922 and again in 1925 and 1926. He was a candidate at the 1928 election but was defeated.

MUNI POOL MECCA FOR YOUNGSTERS

Warm Weather Brought Out Crowds of More Than 1,000 Daily

About 127 boys and 50 girls have enrolled in free swimming classes at the municipal pool, according to Tommy Ryan who has charge of the instruction. The program is part of the directed play program in the city.

Boy's classes have grown to the point where they are divided into groups which begin at 9:30 in the morning a new group receiving instruction every half hour until noon.

Warm weather during the last few days has made the municipal pool a mecca for swimmers of all ages in the city. More than 1,000 swimmers were in the pool during the last few warm days, the group being divided and each limited to an hour or an hour and a half in the water.

Wednesday was girl's day at the pool and they almost outdid the boys for numbers. The pool and area surrounding it were cluttered with misses of every age and size either swimming or awaiting their chance to take a dip.

Wins Prize In Magazine Letter-Writing Contest

Miss Ellen Balliet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Balliet, 2 Brookway, has been awarded a cash prize in the St. Nicholas League contests for boys and girls under 18 years. Boys and girls from every state in the Union and 63 foreign countries competed for the 40 monthly prizes of the St. Nicholas League. Miss Balliet won silver and gold medals on former occasions.

The prize-winning contribution, which appears in the July number of St. Nicholas magazine, follows:

"Dear Dad and Mother:

Since when did you master the art of turning adamant refusals into equally firm acquiescence? Wonder of wonders! Joy of joys! I sing continually that song by Dvorak which we have at home: Goin' home! Goin' home! I'm a-goin' home! Mr. Sullivan (the principal) has given his consent, and I am so flustered that I can hardly write, Goin' home! Goin' home! I'm a-goin' home! I heard this song so often at home that it continually runs through my head. Goin' home! Goin' home! I'm a-goin' home!

"Don't forget to have the whole family there for Easter. In eight days and two hours I will board the train, and will arrive at eleven-thirty or midnight. Tomorrow I am going to the station to inquire about the exact rates and schedules. Goin' home! Goin' home! I'm a-goin' home! That refrain is irrepressible. I hum it constantly. Just eight more days! Goin' home! Goin' home! I'm a-goin' home!!!!

Your most jubilant son, Dave.

A note explains that the letter is written at school, away from home, to the parents of a homesick boy who has just received the unexpected news that he will be permitted to go home for the Easter vacation. Heretofore his parents have refused to allow him to come because of the long distance and the expense of such a trip, and also because as the school he attends has no official vacation, all who receive permission to go home must make up the work they missed, so that only the best students can be allowed to leave school.

STATE AUXILIARY TAKES PART IN 2 FLAG CEREMONIES

Receives Flag from Milwaukee Woman and Gives Flag to Scouts

Two flag presentations were made Thursday in sessions of the annual convention of the Department Auxiliary United Spanish War Veterans. Frances Brill, Milwaukee, patriotic instructor, gave a flag to the state department at the afternoon session and in the evening the Auxiliaries of the state presented a large flag to Troop 10, Boy Scouts of America.

The flag donated by Mrs. Brill was accepted by the department president, Rose Ruth Morris, Green Bay, and brief speeches were made by Lulu N. Shakespeare, national president, and Fannie Zillsch, Appleton, chief of staff.

The flag given by the Auxiliaries to the Boy Scouts was presented by Mrs. Brill and accepted by Robert

LEGION WORKS ON SURVEY REPORTS

Program Is Part of State Department's Civic Improvement Drive

Five community survey reports on phases of civic activity in Appleton have been prepared by committees of Oney Johnston post of the American Legion and are ready for filing with the state department committee according to Leslie C. Smith, post commander.

The survey work started several weeks ago, and is part of a campaign for civic improvement sponsored by the state department of the legion. It has for its purpose recognition of the state in national legion affairs, and is expected to furnish each city, community and the state, a comprehensive survey by which they can learn their strong and weak features.

Other groups working on surveys and not finished with their work have been asked by Mr. Smith to rush the work along. The reports are supposed to be in the state de-

Clocks Balk, Make County Officers Late For Meals

Officials at the courthouse are having a hard time arriving home on time for meals these days and the courthouse official who is fortunate enough to possess a watch whose time-telling ability can be relied on is in big demand.

Yes, the electric clock system which was installed in the courthouse, offices about two years ago has gone on the "blink." Again! For two days there has scarcely been a clock in the courthouse which tells the right time at the right time.

County officials were planning drastic steps to remedy the situation as soon as possible.

LA FOLLETTE'S CANDIDACY

Philip La Follette announces that he will run for the Republican nomination for governor. His candidacy was expected. It is a logical course. The machine which is backing him had to put up some one for governor or suffer a further eclipse. Mr. La Follette is a candidate of this clique and not by reason of any public demand. He depends for success primarily upon his name.

Mr. Kohler has made an exceptional governor, one of the best Wisconsin ever had. No man whose opinions of public service were not distorted by political prejudices could deny this fact. He is in the process of bringing marked improvement to executive and administrative government and his views on legislation have been entirely progressive and constructive. For the first time in many years the public affairs of Wisconsin have been handled in a businesslike, competent and economical manner. There has been a minimum of politics and a maximum of effective service.

The things Phil La Follette says about Gov. Kohler in his statement announcing his candidacy are unfair and unworthy of a man who would aspire to the governorship of a state. They show plainly personal bitterness resulting from the failure of the ouster proceedings instituted by young La Follette and others against Mr. Kohler. They show, too, political ends as the main objective. All of the planks in young La Follette's platform are virtually identical with those expressed at the Oshkosh Republican convention which endorsed Mr. Kohler for re-election, including chain banking, chain stores, taxation and the corrupt practices act. There could be nothing to choose between the two statements of principle.

Mr. La Follette's real reasons for running, therefore, are personal ambition, and to keep alive the Blaine-La Follette machine and perpetuate its political power. No other reason with any sincerity can be put forward. Mr. La Follette says: "The people themselves must ultimately determine whether or not great wealth is to control the economic and political life of this state. The day money can buy and sell public office with impunity marks the end of representative, democratic government." It is the same old shibboleth. Wisconsin is the last state in the Union where there is even suspicion of such a condition of affairs. It has been under so-called Progressive rule most of the time for the last thirty years until the election of Mr. Kohler. If conditions and tendencies are worse today than they were ten, twenty or thirty years ago; if there is anything to get alarmed about, the clique for which Mr. La Follette speaks is responsible, for it has been in power.

The essential difference between Kohler and La Follette is that the former is an able and successful businessman, giving unselfishly his unusual talents to public affairs, with no political axes to grind, while Mr. La Follette is a politician out to serve the interests of a machine bent upon retaining its power in the state at all costs. The circumstances and capacity for service by the former are obviously much greater than those of the latter.

INTERFERING WITH BANKS

Secretary Mellon told the house committee on banking and currency he believed it would be against public policy to adopt the house resolution designed to prohibit national and state banks from investing in German reparations bonds or other certificates issued pursuant to the new plan to settle Germany's war debts. Mr. Mellon objected primarily on the ground that to do so would be equivalent to injecting the government into banking operations, which he held to be contrary to the spirit of the banking laws and of our institutions. The secretary of the treasury believes the banks should have the same freedom in selecting securities of this character as in the purchase for their reserves of industrial, railroad or other bonds. In this position he is, it seems to us, unassailable. The government's relation to banking, and of course here we are speaking of national banks, is to see that they obey the laws under which they operate. It undertakes no interference in their management or policies so long as they are within the law, which is as it should be.

The real explanation of the house resolution is that it emanates from sources habitually opposed to American cooperation in Europe. It has gone so far as to assert that our participation in the new international loan in a strictly private capacity will result in intermingling reparations payments with war debts, and that it injects us into the settlement between Germany and her creditors. It is quite true that it does so far as our bankers and investors are concerned, but in no sense does it touch our political relations with Europe or involve the government in enforcement of German obligations. Again our one hundred percenters in congress are working over time. The United States, as Mr. Mellon points out, is not a party to the Young plan and cannot be responsible for the collection and distribution of reparation payments. Purchase by an American citizen or American bank of reparation bonds cannot alter in any way this situation or our policy. The politicians in congress ought to keep their nerves in better control.

NEW MENACE TO PEACE
Sir Henry Worth Thornton, chairman of the board of Canadian National Railways, who addressed the International Rotary convention at Chicago, laid down the proposition that modern industry highly organized and seeking continually enlarged world markets, is the real menace to world peace. Few will dispute the correctness of this assertion. We are passing out of the era in which wars arose from purely political controversies, militarism and conquest. The world is not going to tolerate much longer appeals to arms from such causes and motives. Economic rivalry is another matter. There is going to be the keenest competition for world markets by the highly efficient and progressive industrial nations. The apparent necessity of constant expansion and increase of production to sustain prosperity presents a grave international problem. We have reached the point in the United States where our industrial development and commercial growth are largely dependent on an adequate outlet for our surplus production. Other nations where the consuming power of their own people is much less and whose national prosperity depends to an even greater degree on export trade, face the problem in a more acute degree.

It is this present and prospective rivalry for foreign markets which, in the opinion of Sir Henry Thornton, is the potential danger in the future. To the extent that results are determined purely by enterprise and efficiency ill-will and discord will be minimized. To the extent that attempts are made to control them by artificial barriers like tariffs, preferential treatment and other devices, the dangers of misunderstanding, enmity and prejudice increase. No nation can work out its destiny without consideration of the interests and rights of other nations. It cannot expect to monopolize trade by unfair practices nor to sell without purchasing. International trade is an international problem, the political aspects of which must be handled with the greatest delicacy and with justice. We are in a world where we must let live as well as live, and it is becoming increasingly evident every day that a policy of isolation, either commercial or political, is impossible, irrational and perilous.

Materials may now be plated with rubber, the same as table knives are plated with silver. Metal in that way may be protected against many actions which destroy it. Cornstalk gas to light and heat cities was recently announced by the American Chemical Society. Ordinary sewage and plain cornstalks are allowed to decompose to form gas. Thirty-two gliding clubs are scattered across the United States and more are fast being formed. Nitroglycerine is the basis of a new lubricant to grease shoes and squeaky wheels. Some fly sprays now contain synthetic fragrances which counteract other repulsive odors of the spray. It is estimated that the modernizing of old buildings during 1929 cost more than $500,000,000.

POST-MORTEM
APPLETON on Thursday morning... cooler and cloudy, a short splash of rain... men clinging to straw hats... people asking us where the convention headquarters were... we didn't know... people wearing badges... many flags, much bunting... more people wearing badges... high school band dubiously serenading the Post-Crescent... an occasional firecracker...
We, Says the Kitchen Cynic, Should Have Been Under It
At last we've met the perfect driver. Yesterday—speaking of straw hats—the wind lifted ours gracefully into the air and dropped it plunk into the parking place. Just as though it were a frame up, a car came rolling in, its left front wheel headed straight for the bonnet. Now that's a nice bonnet we've got, and it isn't paid for yet, either. But, as we said, a perfect driver has something to do with this case. Said driver was driving the car. He clamped on his brake.
Result: hat dusty but un-squashed.

AN OPEN LETTER TO PRESIDENT HOOVER

Dear Herb,
We see where several Appleton people are writing to you so that work on the new post office will begin to pick up right away. Yes, Herb, you really oughta get busy now. Some day we're going to get a lot of contributions all in one day. Then what are you going to do about it? You know perfectly well that the post-master general hasn't time to run up to Appleton and regulate it. And we'll tell you what we'll do, Herb, we'll promise to buy all our stamps in the new post office instead of hounding them like we do now. How's that for a hint? Just think of all the people that's going to be happy!

Yours,

PARNELL'S BIRTH
On June 27, 1846, Charles Parnell, noted Irish statesman and Parliamentary leader, conspicuous for promoting the cause of Home Rule for Ireland, was born at Avondale, Ireland, the son of an old Protestant family.
After his education at Cambridge and a period of travel in the United States, Parnell entered public life in 1875 as a member of Parliament. From the outset he showed remarkable ability for leadership in politics and fought for his principles boldly.
Before two years had passed Parnell formed a party of Nationalists to fight for Home Rule for Ireland in all local affairs, and for reform in the method of land ownership. He continued his agitation against the bitter opposition of both the great English parties until he was arrested and imprisoned.
After spending a year in jail Parnell proposed a bill in Parliament to reduce rents, but it was rejected. Just as he was at the height of political power he became involved in a divorce case. This proved fatal to his reputation, for as a result, he was deposed by the majority of his party.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Friday, June 30, 1905
Miss Daisy Carroll and James L. Brahney were married the previous morning in Appleton. James Clemmens was a Menasha business visitor that day.
George Lohman was a Green Bay business visitor the day before.
Miss Ethel Murphy was to entertain at a 6 o'clock dinner that evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richard had returned from a few weeks' visit with friends in Milwaukee.
Mrs. N. H. Brokaw and son, Norman, and Miss Elizabeth Warner were to spend July and August at Epworth Heights, Michigan.
Miss Johanna Bates entertained at a party at her home the previous evening.
Miss Maid Keefe was expected home that evening from Chicago to spend her vacation with relatives.
Dr. F. H. Ellsworth left that morning on a brief business trip to Chicago.
Capt. Hugh E. Donohoe left that afternoon for Marinette where he was to instruct Company L in guard duty that evening.
Miss Laura Lampert was surprised by 30 friends the night before at her home at 675 State-st.

TEN YEARS AGO

Friday June 25, 1920
Despite efforts of Warren G. Harding, republican presidential nominee, to discourage all speculation regarding cabinet selections, the name of Herbert Hoover as a possible choice for secretary of state was circulating in Washington that day.
Mrs. George Eberhardt returned the night before from Racine where she attended the Grand Colony convention of Deavers, June 23 and 24.
The marriage of Miss Evelyn Van Stratum, daughter of Mrs. Helen Van Stratum, Appleton, and W. Brinkman, Menominee, took place the previous Wednesday at the home of the bride's uncle, Charles Love, Watkesha.
Applications for marriage licenses were made that morning at the office of the county clerk by Walter C. Kline, Appleton, and Ella Behl, Black Creek; Emmett C. Wood, Neenah, and Mattie J. Carpenter, Appleton.
The marriage of Miss Margaret McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCoy, Grand Chute, and Rhenhold Busch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Busch, 917 Gilmore-st., took place the night before at the parsonage of Zion Lutheran church. Dr. Wilson E. Taylor of Lawrence college had been awarded the degree of officer de l'Academie by France for service during the war and after the armistice.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY RICHARD MASSOCK
New York — Upper class Park avenue is a lower class lovers' lane these warm midnights.

Maids and their boy friends, the latter mostly chauffeurs, may be seen saying fond good-nights at almost any servants' entrance.
Another odd sight on Park in the early morning is the rows of milk bottles outside the doorways of millionaires' apartments. They are quite as safe as the family pearls, being under the eyes of the private police who patrol the avenue.

Rudy Vallee's voice seems to be getting stronger. At any rate, he is using the megaphone less.
The Yacht Club boys, one of the better known quartets in town, are breaking up when the current night club season dies, because three of them intend to become brokers.

The widow of Eddie Fox, who has been running a suburban delicatessen, is reported as about to try her skill as producing Sunday night all-star vaudeville shows.
Chorines and show girls are pretty snooty toward each other. Chorus girls, who sing and dance, draw $50 a week. Show girls, who merely have to look pretty, are paid $10 more. One is proud because she can do more, the other because she earns the most.

APPRECIATION OR SYMPATHY?
As a test of the public's willingness to pay for good music, a disguised Chicago violinist played on Michigan avenue the other afternoon. The receipts were about $5.76. This proved, if anything, that he was an amateur at sidewalk fiddling. The street musicians of New York make as much as $175 a week.

Beth Brown, novelist, always keeps six cakes of favorite soap in a soapdish. She also collects harmonicas.
Robert Wayman, retired cotton goods merchant, has what is supposed to be the largest iris collection in America. He started growing them 25 years ago. It became an absorbing hobby that he gave up business last year to devote his entire time to the culture of the flowers, of which he now has 1,200 varieties in his Long Island garden.

Henri Charpentier, Long Island restaurateur, is reputed to be the inventor of crepes auzette, famous French pancakes. But the original recipe has been attributed to other chefs, too.

NOMENCLATURE
Jack Oakie, who seems to have settled down to picture playing in the local studios, was born in Oklahoma. Hence his nom de cinema. His real name is reported to have been Garbo.

For simplicity's sake, that naughty Greek play, "Lysistrata," has been Broadway dubbed "A Night in Athens."
First avenue, where the prosperous and poor are neighbors, has a little store called "The Stale Shop." Only day-old rolls, bread and cake are sold there.

One seldom sees crutches on the town's streets. Yet a man who had to wear them a couple weeks ago reports that instead of encumbering him, as most people probably would think, they helped a lot in crowds.

Everybody courteously made way for him, stood aside when he entered subway cars and offered to assist him. Taxi drivers even stopped while he crossed the avenues. He hadn't felt so safe since he left Three Oaks, Mich.

Let's hope that that Austrian who can play piano with his feet is capable of producing solestraining music.

No matter how good this Austrian is chances are his neighbors will complain of his flat feet.

THE TINYMITES

By Hal Cochran

QUEER looking Russians drifted in the eating place. Each one would grin at all the happy Tinymites. Some stopped and shook their heads. "Hello," said Clowny. "How are you?" It seemed the dog he spoke to knew just what he said. Tiny Scouty cried, "Oh, gee! He understands."

The Travel Man said, "Sure he does. He understands you well because he's had fine education. Ask him to join our crowd. I'm sure he'd like to sit right here and 'twill be nice to have him near. To eat with one real native man should make you all feel proud."

So Scouty said, "Please have a seat. We'll buy your lunch. This is our treat. Then you can tell us heaps of things about Russia we don't know." "Well, this is fine," replied the man. "I'll gladly tell you all I can. If you wee lads are traveling, I'll tell you where to go."

Then down he sat and, as they ate, he promptly started to relate that Moscow was a wondrous place. "Don't miss it, boys," he said. "When you have finished with your lunch you'd better take my kindly hunch. I wonder, will you do it?" And each Tiny shook his head.

In just about an hour or so, the Tinymites were set to go. The Travel man then got a big machine, and off they went. They rode through very pretty spots. "Oh, my, we're seeing lots and lots," said Copy. "This, to me, is how real pleasant hours are spent."

Once, down a long winding road the auto stopped and lost its load. The Tinymites all jumped right out to see a lovely sight. "Oh, my! Will workers never cease?" said Copy. "It's a pack of reese. Let's carry them as they waddle past, but don't give them a fright."

(The Tinymites freed pigeons in Moscow in the next story.)
"Hummer in Ads" Found to Attract Women Buyers. Headlines And those were set to go. The Travel man then got a big machine, and off they went. They rode through very pretty spots. "Oh, my, we're seeing lots and lots," said Copy. "This, to me, is how real pleasant hours are spent."

A BYSTANDER IN WASHINGTON

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—Under the dome of the capitol is a group of young men and women that takes itself just as seriously and settles the nation's problems with just as much enthusiasm as do the members of the United States congress.

It calls itself the "little congress." These are the secretaries of representatives and senators. Once each week, when congress is in session, they meet in the big caucus room of the house office building to discuss affairs of state.

A speaker presides, a clerk calls the roll, a sergeant-at-arms preserves order, and the work of the "little congress" is carried on by committees.

Party lines are strict—secretaries of democratic representatives and senators vote as democrats; secretaries of republican representatives and senators cling to G. O. P. principles.

BITTER DEBATES

Many and bitter are the bi-partisan fights.

There is the one, for instance, which occurred when the democratic floor leaders—Major John Sims, secretary to Senator Brock of Tennessee, and Lee Barnes, secretary to Representative Allgood of Alabama—sought to have adopted a resolution declaring the purpose for which President Hoover convened the special session.

The speaker was a republican. The manner in which he delayed that resolution by parliamentary maneuvering would have done credit to Nicholas Longworth.

And it was not until he had exhausted every bit of strategy that the resolution was adopted.

Probably the most momentous fight in the "little congress" was when it voted to recognize soviet Russia. This action projected the organization into the limelight for the first time in its history.

Patriotic organizations demanded a retraction. But when the resolution was brought up a second time and the vote recorded, "little congressmen" stuck by their guns. They refused to retract.

300 MEMBERS

Organized for the purpose of familiarizing the secretaries with parliamentary procedure and to afford them opportunity to discuss national issues, the "little congress" has a membership of about 300.

The body is governed by the rules and practices of the house of representatives.

At present, all except one of the officers are democrats. T. J. Revelle, secretary of Representative Jonas of North Carolina, clerk, is the only republican.

George Harvey, secretary of Cannon of Missouri, is speaker. Jack Neathery, secretary of Rayburn of Texas, is sergeant-at-arms.

Jack Robison, son of the senator from Kentucky, is floor leader for the republicans.

You won't want to be in old clothes on the 4th—that's sure.

BARBS

If the performance is anything like the going on in Congress, our guess is it will be merely a play on words.

Did you hear about the New York traffic cop who apprehended the mayor for being a J. Walker?

We'll wager President Hoover would be willing to swap some of his fisherman's luck for Cal Coolidge's kind.

Let's hope that that Austrian who can play piano with his feet is capable of producing solestraining music.

No matter how good this Austrian is chances are his neighbors will complain of his flat feet.

BUSINESS LOOKS FOR CHANGE THAT WILL AID FARMERS

Past Three Weeks Have Been Gloomy Ones for Rural Residents

BY OWEN L. SCOTT

Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
Chicago—(CFA)—The eyes of the middle western business world these days are being glued on commodity markets for evidence of a turn that may bring cheer to agriculture.

The past three weeks have been the most gloomy for the farmer since the 1921 deflation period. Hundreds of millions of dollars have melted from the potential value of his products. Governor Clyde M.
Reed, of Kansas, today wired the farm board saying that his state faced a "catastrophe caused by an unduly depressed wheat price."

Here where primary markets are located traders with their fingers on the pulse of affairs which control prices, still are doubtful, but getting more confidence that the bottom of prices is now being scraped. Evidence of a broader demand that will bring an upturn was discerned in grains on Wednesday. But still farm board agencies have not seen fit to consider the situation an emergency which would justify their entry.

What this present slump means in dollars to the farmer is seen in a comparison with the price level pre-valing a year ago. Even at that time values were considered unsatisfactory. Yet the following declines here occurred:

LOW WHEAT PRICES

Wheat, 24 cents under the 1929 level, involving a paper return of $100,000,000 less. Many farmers are receiving 60 cents a bushel for wheat marketed now, the lowest in 16 years.

Corn, 17 cents under a year ago, involving on a normal crop, paper losses of $500,000,000—however, 80 per cent of the crop is marketed through livestock.

Oats 9 cents under a year ago, involving a paper loss of $117,000,000.

Rye, 40 cents lower, the lowest in 30 years and meaning a paper loss compared with last year of about $20,000,000.

It is about the same story with livestock.

Cattle now bring $4 less for each 100 pounds than they did a year ago. This means a loss of scores of millions.

Hogs are selling today $2 per 100 pounds under last year.

Sheep are off an average of $3 for each 100 pounds compared with a year ago.

Dairy products reveal the same situation. Butter prices are the lowest since 1922, fluid milk is under are to be made on the structure before it is opened at the camp, Monday morning, Mr. Frank said.

any price since 1924 and eggs are down to a pre-war level.

Most immediate concern is being shown over the grain situation. Due to the extensive use of the combine the winter wheat crop is moving in volume fully a week earlier than normal and it is striking a demoni-cal market. Reports from the southwest indicate that farmers are taking storage receipts instead of selling their wheat immediately, hoping for a turn in the price. Reports also indicate that threshing returns are better than anticipated and that storage room will be cramped before long.

Livestock prices are being affected by poor consumptive demand for meats. Packers report beef piled up in storage and moving very slowly.
Other meats are getting into the same position and the price of live animals is reflecting this condition.
Livestock raising and dairying in recent years have been the most profitable branches of farming. Today both of them are in an unsatisfactory position as a result of over-production and slow consumption.

Women To Meet Next In Erb Park

THE Women's Missionary society of Emanuel Evangelical church met for a business session and program Thursday afternoon at the church, at which time quarterly roll call was the principal business. Mrs. F. Salberlich gave the Scripture reading, Mrs. Frank Slevert presented a reading, "The Ninety and Nine," and Mrs. J. F. Nienstedt gave a discussion of missionary current events.

The lesson for the day, which was presented by Miss Ida Diekvoos, was taken from the study book, "The Crowded Way," and was entitled City Counterforces. Hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. F. Salberlich, Mrs. George Grimmer, Mrs. Frank Slevert, Mrs. S. J. Sorenson, Mrs. Bertha Wisloff, Mrs. Lydia Gorges, Mrs. A. Godfrey, and Mrs. Arthur Meyer.

It was decided that the next meeting will be held July 24 instead of July 21 and that it will be in the nature of an outdoor meeting at Erb park. Each member is to bring a basket lunch and a special treat will be served by the hostesses, Miss Amanda Engel and Mrs. Rudolph Schiewerle will make arrangements for the picnic and refreshments.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Helen Cornican, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Cornican, Main St., Waupaca, to Harold Halverson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Halverson, Beloit, took place Wednesday noon at the home of the bride's parents. The Episcopal wedding ceremony and ring service was performed by the Rev. Alfred L. du Domaine, Salina, Kan., and the wedding march was played by Mrs. du Domaine. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Mary Cornican, Minneapolis, Minn., sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and John Cornican, brother of the bride, acted as best man. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to 22 guests at Fern Terrace resort at Waupaca. Chain O' Lakes. Mr. and Mrs. Halverson left on a motor trip to Canada after which they will make their home in Beloit where Mr. Halverson is associated with his father in business.

The bride is a graduate of Waupaca high school and attended Lawrence college. She taught for two years in the public schools of Waupaca and in 1929 attended the State Teachers' college at Milwaukee. Mr. Halverson also attended Lawrence college. Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Halverson, Beloit; Mr. and Mrs. Boynton Miller, Fond du Lac; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Walker, Columbus; and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jackson, Portage.

WEDDINGS

MISSION CLUB SEATS OFFICERS

Officers of the Women's Missionary societies of St. Paul English Lutheran church, Neenah, were installed Tuesday evening at the church by the Rev. C. E. Fritz. Those who were installed for the Young Women's Missionary society included Mrs. T. Yaley, Jr., president; Mrs. C. E. Fritz, vice president; Miss Minnie Drajeske, recording secretary; Mrs. J. Fitzgibbon, treasurer; and Mrs. F. Rosch, statistical secretary.

The Women's Missionary society installed the following: Mrs. H. Nooyen, president; Mrs. C. Zimmerman, vice president; Mrs. M. Hruska, recording secretary; Mrs. H. Thornton, treasurer; and Mrs. C. Evans, statistical secretary. A social hour followed the ceremonies.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

At the meeting of the Brotherhood of Trinity English Lutheran church Wednesday night, plans were made for the organization of a baseball team to play the Neenah team at the annual Fox river valley Brotherhood picnic which will be held July 20 at Neenah park. Oshkosh and Fond du Lac teams will also play at this time. Other business was transacted.

The Sunday school of Zion Evangelical church, town of Greenville, will present a program at 10 o'clock Sunday morning at the church. The public is invited. The Rev. W. F. Berg is pastor of the church.

An ice cream social was sponsored by the Brotherhood of St. John Evangelical church from 5 to 9 o'clock Thursday evening on the church lawn. About 400 people were served during the evening. Harold Krueger was chairman of the affair and he was assisted by Peter Baat, Fred Schefe, and August Winters.

A chicken dinner and picnic will be sponsored by the congregation of St. Mary church, Greenville, July 13. The public is invited.

Meetings of the Young People's society of St. Matthew church on Tuesday evenings have been abandoned during the summer months, according to the Rev. Phillip Froehke. Meetings will be resumed after the opening of the parochial school next fall, he stated.

PICNICS

The annual picnic of the bible class of St. Matthew Lutheran church will be held Sunday immediately after morning church services, it was announced Friday by the Rev. Phillip Froehke. No definite place for the picnic has been announced. It is expected 25 members of the class will take part in the event.

E. M. B. A. VOTES VACATION UNTIL COOLER MONTHS

The last regular meeting of Delta chapter, Employees Mutual Benefit association, until fall was held Thursday afternoon at Odd Fellow hall. Guests were Mrs. J. Lanser, past president of the governing body, Mrs. M. Westphal, Mrs. L. Schuler, and Mrs. W. Burkhardt. The afternoon was spent socially, cards and dice providing the entertainment.

Mrs. R. Willerson won the bridge prize, Mrs. F. Volkman was awarded the prize at schafkopf, and the dice prize was won by Mrs. Rose Gerdin. The committee in charge of arrangements included Mrs. William Nowell, Sr., chairman; Mrs. W. H. Mortensen, Mrs. William Nowell, Jr., Mrs. Genevieve Coley, Mrs. Sadie Deltour, Mrs. Regina Konkel, Mrs. John McCarter, Mrs. Nora McGuire, Mrs. Anna Mensinger and Mrs. Katherine Gervow.

Although regular meetings of the chapter will be discontinued during the summer months, there will be a picnic July 10 at Pierce park. Officers of the group will be in charge of arrangements.

CHURCH WILL STAGE OPEN AIR SERVICE

First English Lutheran congregation will hold its annual open air service and school outing next Sunday at Pierce park. The service will begin at 10:30 and will be followed by a basket picnic dinner. No meals will be served.

A program of entertainment for school children will start at 1 o'clock and a band concert will follow. The committees which will take charge of the various phases of the event include: E. Feavel, A. Krabbe, and L. Hodgden, general arrangements; H. Heins, F. Koch, and H. Junge, refreshments; F. Foot, R. Gauerke, and M. Gauerke, program. The morning service will be conducted by the Rev. F. C. Reuter, pastor. His sermon subject will be "Simplicity of Salvation."

PARTIES

Miss Eleanor Stone, Fisk, entertained four tables of bridge Wednesday evening at her home in honor of Miss Isabelle Milnaup, Appleton, whose marriage will take place next month. Out of town guests included Miss Edie Cater, Oshkosh; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Bootz, and Miss Agnes Stone, Appleton. Mrs. Bootz won a prize at bridge.

Miss Germaine Stammer, 802 N. Drew-st., entertained Monday night at a miscellaneous shower at her home in honor of Miss Pearl Stark, who will be married Monday to George Lanser, Schafkopf. Prizes were won by Mrs. Norman Phillips, Mrs. Ed Locker, and Mrs. Fred Laurisch, and prizes at dice were awarded to Mrs. Frank Kirk, Mrs. Andrew Nies, and Miss Lillian Stark. About 45 guests were present.

Mrs. W. Z. Stuart, Neenah, entertained the past presidents of the Federated Women's club officers' association at a luncheon Thursday afternoon at Riverview Country club. Covers were laid for 20 guests.

Mrs. J. C. Shimcik, Fairview-st., entertained at a bridge luncheon Wednesday afternoon at her home in honor of Miss Edna Adelman, Shawano, and the Misses Mildred, Ellen, and Margaret Zuehlke, Appleton, who will leave next Wednesday for Europe. They will sail July 4, on the "Vollendam" to be gone until September. Prizes at bridge were won by Miss Adelman, Miss Mildred Zuehlke, and Miss Ellen Zuehlke. Three tables were in play. Miss Thelma Boettcher, Clintonville, and Miss Adelman, Shawano, were the out of town guests.

Mrs. Mitchell Ross, Two Rivers, celebrated her birthday anniversary Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Galloway, Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold Plunkert, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sief and daughter, Hortonville, were among the out of town guests.

SCORES OF PEOPLE PAY INCOME TAXES

Scores of people are calling daily at the office of Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, county treasurer, to pay their state income taxes. The last day for paying taxes is Tuesday, July 1, and after that date all delinquents must pay a penalty of 2 per cent plus interest of 1 per cent per month. Slightly more than $50,000 of the $300,000 to be collected has already been paid by Outagamie-co. citizens according to Miss Ziegenhagen, although only a few corporations have made their payments. Miss Ziegenhagen plans to keep her office open Saturday afternoon, although it is usually closed at that time to accommodate taxpayers who want to come to the courthouse at that time to make their payments. Many payments are being made by mail.

The next meeting will be in two weeks.

Mrs. Chet Heinritz, Brewster-st., was hostess to the Five Hundred club Tuesday evening at her home. Eight members were present. Cards were played and prizes awarded to Mrs. Frank Breuer and Mrs. Heinritz. The club will meet again next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Rose Reichert, Locust st.

29 CITIES MORE THAN DOUBLED THEIR SIZE DURING PAST DECADE

Dearborn, Mich., Heads List With Increase of 1926.7 Per Cent

Washington (AP)—By more than doubling their size in the last decade, 29 cities have made themselves eligible to a special honor roll. It will be impressively titled, "Cities having 25,000 inhabitants or more in 1930 which increased in population more than 100 per cent between 1920 and 1930."

Tabulated in neat columns, it will be published in that ponderous tome "Population 1930" which will come, eventually, from census bureau presses.

Twenty-three cities were on that "100 per cent increase" list in the 1920 volume. Two were mentioned, but not listed, because their "nominal 100 per cent" increases were due to annexations and consolidations. However, the census bureau made some observations on the basis of the 25.

The 1930 list of 29, compiled from supervisors' announcements, and subject to revision, offers, in comparison with the 1920 list, some population trends.

The headliner in the 1930 list, Dearborn, Mich., increasing by 1926.7 per cent, outclassed the 1920 headliner, Hamtramck, same state, which had a 1,266 per cent increase in 1920. Both are suburbs of Detroit, showing a 20-year spectacular growth in that auto-manufacturing center.

LOCATION OF CITIES

The census bureau in 1920 made notation that of the 25 cities which increased at rates greater than 200 per cent between 1910 and 1920, seventeen were in the north, six in the south and two in the west.

Of the 29 thus far reporting more than 100 per cent increase rates between 1920 and 1930, seven are in the north, fifteen are in the south, seven are in the west.

The new decade of rapid growth has been all to the glory of the bigger city. Seven cities of more than 100,000 inhabitants—Los Angeles, Houston, Oklahoma City, Hollywood, Long Beach, Chattanooga, and Miami—are on the 1930 hundred per cent list as against two—Detroit and Akron—in 1920.

The 1930 list includes six cities of 50,000; 59 of 100,000 population as against five in 1920. The number of cities of between 25,000 and 50,000 population remained constant—16 "doublers" in both the 1920 and 1930 censuses.

The 29 cities doubling their size or more between 1920 and 1930 are listed below in the order of their percentage increase. The first figure after each is its 1930 population and the second its percentage of increase:

Dearborn, Mich.—50,060—1926.7; Glendale, Cal.—62,607—362.5; University City, Mo.—25,717—278.6; Miami, Fla.—10,025—273.1; Berwyn, Ill.—47,005—232.2; Cleveland Heights, O.—50,128—225.3; Alhambra, Cal.—20,450—223.7; Hollywood, Cal.—153,294—206.0; Orlando, Fla.—27,263—193.7; Amarillo, Tex.—43,107

The Story of Sue

by MARGERY HALE © 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

SUE felt no special surprise as Barbara referred to her as Jack's efficient, practical secretary, who thought that a smile from him was reward enough. Not even the question at the end, "Don't you, Sue?" annoyed her.

She decided to ignore the thrust. "Aren't the flowers lovely?" she asked.

"Beautiful! You've done lovely things to the table," Barbara enthused softly, her mischief done. "I guess that's all. You may go any time."

This time Sue's eyes were wide and startled. She was present as a guest, at both Jack's and Miles' request, and it was her own sister's marriage that was being celebrated. Well, she couldn't stay. Not after that! Barbara would have to apologize first.

Then the room righted itself and she changed her mind. She wouldn't quit! Miles, Jack, Harry Corrinne... they were the ones who mattered, and they wanted her. They were coming now, laughing and talking all at once. At that moment they stopped and the voices were quiet a minute as they looked at Sue's handiwork. Through the silence Barbara's charming, silver-ribbed tones flowed evenly. "I guess we're all here now. Thank you so much for helping us, Miss Merryman. You did wonderful work. And you may go now, please."

The silence changed tone. It gathered itself for a storm.

Sue felt bright hot tears in her eyes. She didn't know that she was lovelier than ever as she flung her dark head higher.

"Sue go? What do you mean, Barbara?" Jack asked.

"If Sue moves one step, so do I," Miles came back, in a bantering tone which didn't match the hardness of his eyes.

"Well of all the... rudeness!" Corrinne's voice escaped. "Sue, as my sister, has a right to be at any party where I am, and if she isn't good enough to stay neither am I!"

Harry tried to be cheerful, his eyes on his chum's stunned face. "Of course she stays. Barbara was joking."

"Of course she was," Jack took it up.

"Exit Miss Merryman, the perfect secretary. Enter, Sue, the sister of the guest of honor." Miles tried to make the entire affair of no consequence. But Barbara was not through.

"Oh, I'm so sorry. So dreadfully, dreadfully sorry. Sue, I had hoped you would be here but I didn't know and nothing was said and I supposed I was to take charge as hostess now. Of course we'll be very glad to have you."

Sue knew that she ought to stay; knew that it would be the only courageous, gallant thing to do; the only way to keep faith with those who mattered. But she knew she was going to cry. She bit her lips, dug her nails into her hands.

She didn't care if she was game or not. She was sick of it all. She excused herself for an instant and managed even to smile into Corrinne's puzzled eyes. She noticed that her sister had a few forget-me-nots tangled in her corsage. But once in the dressing room she grabbed her coat and slipped down the back stairway.

NEXT: Barbara apologizes to Sue. (Copyright, 1930, NEA Service, Inc.)

Bankers Have Been Concerned Over Too Many Other Problems

BY CHARLES F. SPEARE
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
New York (CPA)—With American bankers lately concerned over so many problems of an immediate character, less than ordinary attention has been given to the analysis of the international payments by the United States, made by the department of commerce and recognized as one of the most important annual contributions to financial records made in this country.

This study has been going on for about 10 years. Each year it gains in thoroughness and in recognition throughout the world. The attempt made in it is to explain the movements of foreign capital and of foreign exchange and to establish a net balance between the visible and invisible items that figure on the credit side of the American balance sheet and those representing debits. Obviously exact conclusions cannot be arrived at since many of the statistics only approximate actual movements. Through the cooperation of international bankers a very clear picture, however, can be given of what takes place from year to year in the purchase and sale of securities, the payments of interest, the size of foreign bank balances in the United States, the amounts spent by American tourists in Europe and in Canada and by tourists from other parts of the world in this country, the remittances of aliens to their home land and the items of ocean freights, gold exports and imports and war debt receipts.

THREE FEATURES

The most popular features of the report are those dealing with the yearly net increases in American long term investments abroad, tourist expenditures and immigrant remittances.

Between 1923 and 1928, the net increase in American long term investments abroad was from $258,000,000 in the earlier year to $1,318,000,000 in 1928. In 1929 the amount dropped to $808,000,000. For the seven year period covered, the total net increase in these investments was $5,000,000,000. In a similar term of years the interest on American private funds abroad rose from slightly under $600,000,000 to about $1,000,000,000. The interest on foreign funds in the United States in the same period increased from $180,000,000 in 1923 to $414,000,000 in 1929. In both 1928 and last year this item was rapidly expanded under the influence of the high call money rates in this country, which attracted short term funds from all over the world and raised the aggregate of such funds to the largest figure ever known.

INCREASED SPENDING

Seven years ago the so-called tourist expenditures by Americans overseas were $313,000,000. In 1929 they were $517,000,000. For the seven year period, they aggregated more than $3,000,000,000 and have played a prominent part in reestablishing

LIFE'S ODDITIES

By George Clark

credit conditions in France, Germany and Italy. It is doubtful if they will be as high this year as in 1929, inasmuch as the number of first class passengers on outgoing steamers has decreased owing to the Wall Street conditions and general business affairs. Between 1923 and the end of 1929, American tourist expenditures in Canada and in Mexico, mainly the former country, increased from $131,000,000 to $322,000,000. For the seven year period, they aggregated $1,600,000,000, bringing the total of all American tourist expenditures for the 1923-29 term of years above $4,500,000,000.

In that same period, immigrant remittances held almost constant from year to year, aggregating for the seven years $1,500,000,000, a sum which, like that for tourist expenditures, helped European countries to get back on their feet. Against the item of tourist expenditures was the offset of expenditures by foreign tourists in the United States, which increased from $104,000,000 in 1923 to $180,000,000 in 1929 and totaled about $1,000,000,000 for the seven years.

In accordance with instructions he gave 13 years ago, C. A. J. Frayne, aged 86, a retired farmer, was buried in his best suit at Yaxley, England.

Britain's national birth rate is again increasing.

CIRCUS PLAYS TO FAIR CROWD TODAY

Old-time Street Parade Is Feature of Visit to Appleton

Robbins Brothers circus arriving here from Escanaba, Mich., shortly before 10 o'clock pitched its tents on the circus grounds on Badger-ave and prepared for its day's stand.

The parade which was scheduled for shortly before noon was called off by show authorities at 11:15, because of the late arrival and fact that a parade would delay the afternoon show. Several hundred persons and about half the city's youngsters were on the avenue awaiting the parade but were forced to return home disappointed.

A fairly large audience witnessed the afternoon performance. The opening spectacle "Mother Goose in Fairyland," was well presented. Miss Minnie Atzen, soprano soloist, has a good voice and she was heard above the augmented concert band directed by A. A. Gilson.

A Japanese farmer near Westmoreland, Calif., produced $20,000 worth of tomatoes from 16 acres.

55 YOUNGSTERS IN SWIMMING CLASSES

Bathing Beach Caretakers Want All Youngsters to Learn to Swim

Neenah—More young people are making applications for the free swimming lessons at the bathing beach than ever before, according to those in charge. The daily class of 55 boys and girls ranging from 6 to 15 years. The past few days of warm weather has driven large numbers of bathers to the lake. Many of the boys have learned to swim while attending the annual brigade camp where swimming is one of the chief sports.

Among those at the municipal bathing beach Thursday afternoon was a group of 75 Chicago boys who came to the city's tourist camp over Wednesday night on their way home from northern Wisconsin.

The swimming lessons given each afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock are free and those in charge urge parents to send their children, no matter what the age may be, to learn to swim.

STILL VALUED AT $15,000 FOUND IN CLOSED BREWERY

Explosion and Fire Discloses Alcohol Plant—Operatives Escape

Neenah—Federal agents in Menasha Friday were destroying equipment and raw material of one of the largest alcohol distilling plants ever discovered in this part of the state. The still, having a capacity of about 1,500 gallons a day, was discovered Thursday morning when an explosion and fire in the Lower Menasha Brewery Co., building forced operatives to call the Menasha fire department.

Immediately after discovering the nature of the case, James Lyman, Menasha police chief notified Federal headquarters in Milwaukee, and Ivan Kantschew and Peter Whelan started an investigation late Thursday afternoon. Destruction of raw material and equipment began immediately and still is under way. The fire broke out in two 500 gallon vats of alcohol in the process of cooking. In addition to the large quantities of liquor ready for shipment, 12 vats, each about 10 feet long and 10 feet deep and with a capacity for 10,000 gallons of mash each were found and the stuff poured into the sewer.

About a carload, estimated at 25 tons, of corn sugar was found in one end of the building. As soon as a suitable dumping place can be found, workers will destroy the raw material. Yeast, in 17 50 pound boxes, also was found. Other equipment, including boilers, oil drums, an oil burner and a special truck were found.

The two Federal agents worked at the building all Thursday night, but expect to be relieved by other agents Friday. A Fond du Lac wrecking crew is destroying the material and equipment, the latter all new and estimated at $15,000.

W. W. Winz, former owner of the brewery, claims that the property was recently sold to Milwaukee men but plant operatives disappeared after the fire and no arrests have been made.

Cornell Wins Inter-Collegiate Rowing Championship

WISCONSIN TRAILS IN EIGHTH PLACE; NAVY IS SWAMPED

Soph Substitute Strokes Winners to First Victory in 15 Years

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
Foughkeepsie, N. Y.—(AP)—Cornell once again rules the inter-collegiate seas.

Cornell has waited 15 years to pick up the thread of victory cut short by the end of Pop Courtney's regime, and has been buffeted about while a new generation of rowing greatness, featuring Washington, Columbia and the Navy, came along to dominate the waters.

Yesterday, through the rough water and the mist that partially shrouded the Hudson, Cornell came back with a startling rush to capture the four mile varsity race, defeating eight of the finest crews the east, middle west and far west could produce.

With a sophomore, Robert M. Wilson, of Montclair, N. J., stepping in as a substitute to play a Frank Merrill role as stroke, Cornell rode to victory in one of the biggest upsets in the history of the regatta. Syracuse turned up with almost equal unexpectedness as the only serious challenger while the highly favored crews of Columbia, the 1929 champions; Washington and the Navy, each three times winners, struggled far behind.

Cornell whipped Syracuse by a good three lengths as these two old rivals fought it out alone in the last mile. Scarcely less surprising was the performance of Massachusetts Tech, which set a sensational pace for nearly two miles, yielded doggedly to Cornell's rush and still had the stuff to finish a good third. Five lengths behind Syracuse but in front of all the pre-race favorites as California, Columbia, Washington, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin finished in that order.

NAVY SWAMPED
Navy, as the climax to the worst afternoon the sailors have ever experienced in what is usually their own special element, swamped within 100 yards of the finish and went down.

After a brief spurt at the outset the sailors never were contenders. The river was whipped to unreasoning by a stiff upstream wind and this along with the disturbance caused by a coast guard vessel, contributed to the shipping of considerable water by Navy, Columbia and Washington.

Tradition, the coaching of the new mentor of Cornell rowing—Jim Wray—and the inspiration of a brilliant pace setter in the 19-year-old Wilson, all contributed to Cornell's astonishing triumph. Wilson, who became an oarsman by accident with little previous experience, was the third man to stroke Cornell's varsity in three races this season. A third string substitute, he gained the pivotal seat in the big boat a fortnight before the regatta because of the illness of his commodore, Hod Shoenmaker. Yet this youngster, stroking his first big race, rowed with steady confidence, rising to every emergency, as he paced the boatload in which he had debuted, 28 year old P. J. McManus, at No. 5 contributed conspicuous support.

CORNELL WINS J. V. TOO
Cornell captured the junior varsity three mile race in smashing style, beating the favored Washington crew by five and a half lengths. Syracuse beat Cornell's freshman boat by two lengths in the two mile race that opened the regatta.

Cornell spread eagled the Jayvee fleet of six entries with Washington, Kansas City, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Navy finishing in that order. Syracuse's freshmen, in their first winning race of the year, topped a field of eight which showed Cornell, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Washington, Navy, California and M. I. T. parading across in that sequence.

Varsity—four miles—Cornell, 11:45; Syracuse, 21:54 1-5; M. I. T., 22:45; California, 22:44 4-5; Columbia, 22:32 2-5; Washington, 22:41; Pennsylvania, 22:54; Wisconsin, 22:59 1-5; Navy, swamped.

Junior varsity—three miles—Cornell, 16:30; Washington, 17:01; Columbia, 17:11; Syracuse, 17:25 4-5; Pennsylvania, 17:30; Navy, 17:30 1-5. Freshman—two miles—Syracuse, 11:15 1-5; Cornell, 11:25 4-5; Columbia, 11:19 2-5; Pennsylvania, 11:46 2-5; Washington, 11:47 3-5; Navy, 11:52 1-5; California, 11:57 3-5; M. I. T., 12:01 1-5.

What the Stars Did Yesterday

Hughey Critz and Fred Leach, Giants—Collected eight hits between them, drove in four runs and scored two.

Larry French and Ervin Brame, Pirates—Held Phils safe in double hit as Pirates won twice, 1-0 and 11-5.

Tony Lazzeri, Yankees—Hit homer with bases filled to aid Yankees beat Indians.

Dizzy Vance, Robins—Struck out six, kept Cubs, nine hits scattered and beat them, 7-1.

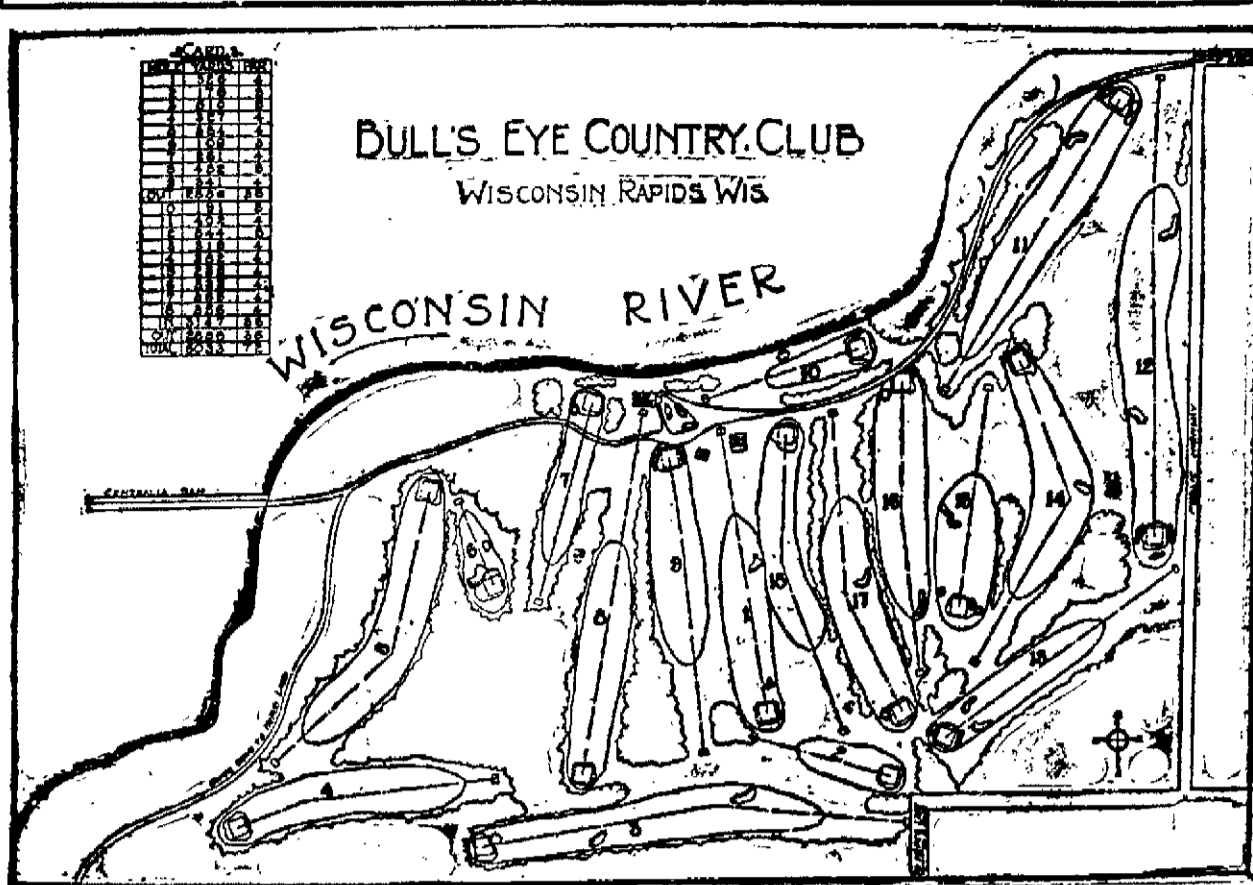

Sam Simmons, Athletics—Hit single, double and triple as A's won over Browns easily.

YOUNG AND MURPHY WIN GOLF MATCHES

Frank Young and Frank Murphy have won matches in the first round of elimination play in the June handicap at Riverview country club. Young defeated Joe Steele, 1 up on the 19th hole while Murphy copped from Roy Marston, 1 up on the 20th hole. Marston had a two stroke handicap as did Steele.

The matches were the third in the June handicap tourney and the second and third to go extra holes because they were decided.

Where Women Golfers Will Play

WISCONSIN RAPIDS — Hewn from the virgin pine forests along the winding, scenic Wisconsin river, the Bull's Eye Country club 18-hole golf course here, on which the Women's State Tournament will be played this year from July 21 to 25, is widely known throughout the midwest as one of Wisconsin's beauty spots. Tourists travel miles for the sole purpose of playing it.

The course is located high up on the river bank about one and one-half miles over a private driveway along the river from Wisconsin Rapids, and is in the center of a wildlife refuge established by the state conservation commission. It is not uncommon to see ruffed grouse, squirrels and other small game along its fairways. One one occasion last summer a large deer emerged from the timber along No.

3 fairway, and loped down toward the green ahead of a foursome.

Established in 1920 as a nine-hole course, the links was completely revised into 18 holes of 6,033-yard length in 1926, the first nine being 2,886 yards, and the second 3,147. Both nine are par 8. Being from 40 to 50 feet above the river bank on a rolling, heavily wooded plateau, the area is well drained, making the course available for comfortable playing immediately after severe rainstorms.

So far as actual play is concerned, the course presents no great difficulties to one who can shoot a good, straight ball, avoiding the towering pines which line both sides of the fairly wide fairways. But slight inconvenience from other golfers crossing over into the wrong fairway is occasioned on this course. Large grass tees have recently been built, affording the best possible driving surface.

Numerous rains this year have put the fairways and greens in the best condition in the history of the course. The greens, of Flossmoor creeping bent, are smooth and as well-cushioned as a Persian rug. But their slightly rolling surface will cause considerable exasperation to the inexperienced putter.

Mrs. J. E. Alexander, chairman of the Bull's Eye women's sports committee and president of the Wisconsin Women's Golf association, has been diligently working with Greenskeeper "Bill" Barnes and President Paul A. Pratt of the club in placing the course in the best possible condition for the tournament in July. Mrs. Alexander hopes to make this tournament the best in the history of the women's state association.

Leroy Mahaffey May Be Year's Hurling "Find"

BY JOHN B. FOSTER
Copyright 1930

NEW YORK—Seldom is a championship won in the major leagues that a pitcher does not come from the land of nowhere into stardom. Plenty of instances may be cited when this has taken place.

It is also true that a team, which has won a championship, and is out for another occasionally is fortunate enough to get plenty of first aid from some unknown kid who happens into the thick of the picture when some of the old fellows have gone by the board, or are about to go by.

Here is Leroy Mahaffey, for instance, of this year's Athletics. To date, this youngster has won six games and lost one. That is a great stop gap for a team that has seen Howard Ehmke unconditionally released, that finds Rube Walberg going about fifty-fifty, Jack Quinn about the same and George Earnshaw not much better.

The balance of winnings of the Athletics rests with Lefty Grove and Mahaffey. If their victories were to be taken away from the "A's" the team would be in the second division. It had been figured that Bill Shores would be the candy kid of the Athletics this year. When the players were getting ready to try to capture the championship for a second time, Grove was counted upon as being Grove. There was not the fine assurance for Quinn that there might have been, had he not been so mercilessly cut up in the world series.

Earnshaw was deemed a winner and the players thought Walberg had not been impaired by the hard work that he did in 1929, although left handers sometimes are a little worked out after a severe season.

Ehmke was not reckoned upon as a great factor for success. The players felt that he had gone along about as far as he was likely to go, when he pitched such a marvelous strike-out game in the 1929 world series. Glenn Liebhardt was unknown and a little cocky in his demeanor and Ed Redmond was regarded as a "fill in," a role he has held for some time.

Mahaffey was liked by the players, but most of them figured that this year would be his year to obtain experience. The man who had the most confidence in the youngster was Connie Mack, the manager. Even when his energetic lieutenants were not over-sanguine as to what the young fellow would do, Mack regarded him favorably.

There are the months of July, August and September to come and if Mahaffey keeps on as he is going now he may have 13 victories instead of six at the finish and when the medals are awarded for distinguished service on the pitcher's mound, Mahaffey will surely draw one.

FIRST WARDERS WIN, LOSE SOFTBALL GAMES

First ward Midgets played the Sixth ward Midgets two softball games recently on the former's grounds and broke even for the afternoon's toll. The score in the first game was 11 and 3 for the First ward and in the second it was 13 and 5 against them. Dutcher hurled for the First ward in the initial game while Peterman and Klose did the catching.

The First ward first team Midgets competed in the second game of the afternoon, and were the losers. Errors and inability to get enough hits cost them the game in which Alunchow, Crane, Dutcher starred. The former counted a home run in the ninth inning.

Batteries for the First ward were Lesselyoung and I. Zussman, pitchers, M. Zussman and Crane, catchers. Sturs on the Sixth ward team were Rankin, pitcher, Hoffman, Bueasing, Stedert, Manier and Bowers.

A match play against par tournament will be played at Riverview golf course Saturday and Sunday, according to Oscar Riches, club professional. The meet will be played over two days to give all members of the club a chance to enter.

TELEPHONES LOSE TO ALL STARS, 8-1

Stars Play Machine Co. Squad Sunday Morning at 4th Ward

The All-Star softball team chalked up another victory Thursday evening by an 8 and 1 score when it defeated the Telephone company at McKinley Junior high school grounds.

Priebe and Ryan worked for the All-Stars, the former giving four hits. Hollenbeck, the Telephone company's speed ball artist was on the mound for the losers and gave 11 hits. The only run scored by the Telephones came in the eighth inning on a couple hits and a walk.

Mortell and Rulo were the bat stars, each getting a triple with a mate on the sacks. Mortell also took a hard at hurling for the Stars and pitched the last inning retiring the side on 11 pitched balls.

At 9:30 Sunday morning the Stars will play the Machine company at McKinley school grounds.

JONES, HUTCHINSON PAIRED AT INTERLACHEN

New York—(AP)—Pairings for the 150 eligibles in the national open golf championship at the Interlachen club, Minneapolis, July 10-11-12, have been announced by the United States Golf association. The pairing cover only the first two days of play.

First to get away on the opening day, Thursday, July 10, will be Jack Burdett of Houston, Texas, and Charley Hall of Birmingham, Ala. They start at 8:30 a. m. Bobby Jones and Jack Hutchinson will get away at 9:45.

OVERBERG IS NAMED U. W. CREW CAPTAIN

Foughkeepsie, N. Y.—(AP)—Louis Overberg, Edgerton, Wis., today occupied the position of Captain-elect of the university of Wisconsin crew for 1931.

Overberg, who rowed no. 2 in the Wisconsin shell here yesterday, will be a senior next year. He was elected at a meeting held last night by the Badger oarsmen.

TRIS SPEAKER QUILTS AS NEWARK MANAGER

Newark, N. J.—(AP)—Discouraged over his failure to develop a contender, Tris Speaker, one of baseball's greatest figures, has resigned as manager of the Newark club of the International league. His resignation was announced yesterday and Jack Onslow, coach, was named acting manager.

CHUCK KLEIN GETS 100TH HIT OF SEASON

Chicago—(AP)—Chuck Klein, of the slugging but errant Phillies is the first major league player to hang up 100 hits in the 1930 campaign. Klein got a losing hit for his 100 yesterday in a three double-header with Pittsburgh.

Hodapp of Cleveland has the most hits in the American league with 96.

In a game featured by three double plays by the winners, the Wisconsin Michigan Power company bumped the Pettibone-Peabody company squad in an American league soft ball game. The count was 8 and 6.

The Retailers scored twice in the second inning but the Power company got one of the runs back in the third frame. In the fourth the W. M. crew went out in front with a two run rally but saw the Retailers overcome the margin with four big runs in the fifth frame.

A rally by the Power company in its half of the sixth inning tied up the score at 6 all. The seventh inning was quiet but the eighth produced two runs for the Power company and gave them the game.

In the other fracas of the evening the Fox River Paper company team beat the Chair factory, 11 and 4.

FORDS PREP FOR INVASION OF BAYS

Victory Over Kaws Last Week Has Made Green Sox Confident

August Brandt's Fords who now are tied for the top rung in the Fox River valley league went through one of their weekly workouts Thursday evening at Brandt park and feel almost ready to make their next appearance on the home lot. The said next appearance will be Sunday afternoon and the enemy will be the Green Bay club.

Flushed with a couple wins and especially the one over the Kaukauna club last week, the Bays are coming to Appleton all set to bounce Len Smith and his boy friends right out of the first division.

The pitching of Dave Zuidmuller who once cavorted high school gridiron in the valley and who dons the molesters for dear old Packers in the fall of the year is one reason the Bays are so cocky. Zuidmuller has been pitching first rate ball all season and now that his teammates seem to be able to coin a few runs they figure victories shouldn't be hard to get.

Appleton will present the same lineup and batting order that knocked Fred Nixon and the Neenah and Menasha Palls off just about two weeks ago. Kotal has left for scenes in and about New York city and will be gone almost all the summer. George Verbrick will continue in Kotal's boots at short.

Testwuide May Not Play In N. E. Golf Tournament

Posters announcing the fourteenth annual Northeastern Golf association tournament to be held at Butte des Morts course here have been received and put up at local clubs. The dates of the tourney are July 17, 18 and 19.

Bobby Testwuide, Sheboygan, is the defending champion but whether he will compete is not known, according to stories from the Chair city. Bobby is attending school in the east where he has made a record for himself in several branches of sport and may not be back in Wisconsin until after the tournament. August Brandt company entry in the National softball league protected its claim to first place Thursday evening by downing the Atlas Mill squad, 4 and 0 at Pierce park. Lertenschlager, hurling for the Fords gave but 3 three hits and not a Mill player reached third base. The Fords in the meantime counted 7 blows off Crane, Atlas hurler.

Wednesday evening the Badger Printers got back into the win column by beating the Foresters 8-6. A rally in the eighth inning turned the trick.

Tonight's league game give promise of being a battle royal with the Legion hooking up with the Bankers. The veterans appear to be a jinx for the Bankers who plan to cop the decision hook or crook.

TWO RIVERS NET CLUB SEEKS GAMES

Wants Singles and Doubles Matches With Appleton Tennis Players

Neshota Tennis club of Two Rivers is seeking a match with the Appleton club, according to Dr. R. V. Landis, president of the local organization, and if enough players can be gotten together chances are the match will be staged sometime next month.

A letter from the Two Rivers club was received by Dr. Landis a few days ago, the lake shore team asking for six singles matches, and three doubles to be played July 6, 27, or Aug. 10, 17, 24. On the July 6 and July 27 dates, the teams can play at Two Rivers if necessary.

Dr. Landis now is making a canvass of tennis players in Appleton and if enough can be gotten together the match probably will be held.

SPLIT SEASON IS FAVORED BY MOST A. A. CLUB OWNERS

Colonels Will Object to New Plan; Brewers Lose to Hens, 5-1

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO—(AP)—Probability of a split season, the second half to start July 7, has brought cheer to all American association clubs except the Louisville Colonels, who are unwilling to surrender their first mortgage on a full season's pennant.

Indications today were that club owners of the circuit would vote six and possibly seven to one for the proposal when President Thomas J. Hickey presents it at the special meeting in Chicago July 1.

Thus the teams, which have been watching the Colonels make a one team race out of the pennant chase, will have a new chance not only to win the second half title but to win the big flag in a post season series play-off.

Louisville, seven games in front of its nearest rival, St. Paul, intends to fight the plan.

Louisville's march and Minneapolis' eight game winning streak were halted in yesterday's games. St. Paul reduced Louisville's lead to seven games by defeating the Colonels, 10 to 6. Wilcy Moore was given good support with the bat by his mates and won his fifteenth victory of the season.

Mike Cvergorski, the mournful Indianapolis southpaw, pitched the funeral services for Minneapolis' winning streak. He allowed but three hits and the Indians won, 10 to 1.

In another good pitching performance, George Connolly held Milwaukee to six hits and Toledo blasted out a 5 to 1 victory. Herb Cobb of the Brewers came back after a two months' illness but was ineffective. Kansas City clinched fourth place by defeating Columbus, 6 to 1.

YANKEES, MACKS AND SENATORS WIN JUNIOR LOOP GAMES

Struggle Between Cubs, Robins Goes to Latter as Vance Hurls

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

THE New York Yankees have won seven out of their last ten games without improving their position, for Washington and Philadelphia have each won eight out of ten. The Athletics are a game and one half ahead of the Senators with the Yankees another half game back.

The Yanks won yesterday after a struggle with Cleveland. The count was 13 to 11, and nine of Cleveland's runs came in the last four innings after the Yanks had piled up an 11 to 2 lead.

Philadelphia and Washington were victors by big scores in a day which produced 106 hits by the eight American league clubs and 67 runs. The Athletics made 13 blows, eight of them for extra bases, off Sammy Gray and defeated St. Louis, 8 to 3. Washington, scoring seven runs in the first inning, scored Detroit, 12 to 4.

Even the humble Boston Red Sox did some heavy hitting, attacking Al Thomas of the Chicago White Sox for five runs in the fifth inning and defeating the pale hose, 9 to 7, for the sixth time in succession.

GIANTS GET 20 HITS
The New York Giants outdid anything the American league could offer by piling up 20 hits to beat St. Louis, 12 to 4.

A slip by Phil Collins, until yesterday the league's leading pitcher, gave Pittsburgh the first game from Philadelphia, 1 to 0. He wound up while Brickell was on third and let the ball slip from his grasp. Before he could recover the one run was in and he lost the game although he gave but four hits. Every Pirate clouted the ball at least once in the second game to bring an 11 to 5 decision.

The highly heralded struggle of the Titans between Brooklyn and Chicago turned into a demonstration in honor of Dazzy Vance which put the Robins two full games in the lead with a 7 to 1 triumph. Brooklyn drove Charley Root from the mound with five runs in the second inning.

Experts Now Believe Primo May Be Fighter

BY FRANCIS J. POWERS
Copyright 1930

CHICAGO — The boxing world now is satisfied Primo Carne- ra can take it on the chin or in the stomach and remain erect on his acre sized feet. Previous opinion was that a good, hard puncher would find the Italian's elongated chin easy to dent and his midriff like so much mush. The Ambling Alp consumed all of George Godfrey's punches without more than a tremor and old Phebe Williams is not the worst hitter in the business. Carne- ra's showing against Godfrey gives the heavyweight situation a new turn. With his size, strength and increasing boxing skill the Italian should be able to win from the majority of 200 pound heavies without much difficulty. If he did not knock them out he could exhaust them in the clinches, for the Venetian is a reformed wrestler and knows all the tricks of grabbing and clutching.

It may take such a man as Jack Dempsey was against Jess Willard in Toledo to bring down Carne- ra, a terrific puncher who can devitalize an opponent with ripping, tearing blows to the heart and body before reaching for the chin. There's no such a fellow around the premises unless Dempsey buys a return ticket and still retains 15 per cent of his old punching power.

Carne- ra had his punches at Godfrey without stumbling the big black but that's nothing much to his discredit. In more than 70 fights, Godfrey was knocked out only once and he has milled with some good men. But Carne- ra's failure to stagger Godfrey indicates he is not the super-puncher his managers tried to build up against numerous round heels on the recent tank tour.

STILL A NOVICE
Carne- ra still is pretty much of a novice in the fight game and with more experience he may be able to incorporate his tremendous strength into his blows. But for the present he cannot be called a great hitter.

Vittorio Campolo the giant Argentinian, would make a good foe for the wandering Italian. Campolo is about the nearest approach to Carne- ra in size and he has been taking on some good men with success. Campolo did not get the build-up given Carne- ra but he has shown courage and punching ability. That should make a fight.

Max Schmeling would be lost standing beside Carne- ra and after seeing Primo against Godfrey probably wants little of the Italian. But Maxie may some day be forced to meet the giant. Perhaps Carne- ra never will be an adept boxer or real good hitter. But with ability to absorb punishment and his tremendous size the fellow may become a champion. Such things occasionally happen. Then boxing promoters would be forced to search for another Jess Willard or Luther McCarthy or a second Dempsey to cut him down.

But before considering future championship battles the governors of boxing might well give the growing evil of fouls some serious consideration. The last three important heavyweight fights have been snarled by fouls and each additional one blackens the boxing game. But so long as boxing continues to be what it is there is little chance of anything helpful being done.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
JOHN L. SULLIVAN never was a heavyweight champion of the world under the Marquis of Queensberry rules. . . . You see John L. was a burkknuckles man and fought nearly all his battles under the London prize ring rules. . . . until he met Jim Corbett in New Orleans, he hadn't gone in for glove fighting. . . . 12,318 boxing fans bought $26.25 seats for the Sharkey-Schmeling bout. . . . and 18,395 bought $2.10 seats. . . . The closest that Grover Alexander ever came to pitching a no-hit game was in St. Louis. . . . Two were out in the ninth when Bruno Betzel, a weak hitter, socked one right over second base. . . . Fifteen years ago Alex was signing contracts that called for a bonus of $1000 if he won more than 25 games.

Sports Question Box

Question—How many West Point captains since 1919 have left the Army? Name them please.
Answer—Greene, 1921; Bredster 1922; Mulligan 1923; Garblach, 1924; Sprague 1925 and Cagle 1926.

Question—Is fancy bag punching a necessary part of a boxer's training?
Answer—Emphatically not. Fancy bag punching is all wrong for a boxer. It starts a habit of using elbows and turning the wrist. Stralgh bag punching is used to limber the muscles, to sharpen the eyes and timing.

Question—Two are out with a runner on first. Batter swings at the third strike and the ball gets away from the catcher, and rolls into the crowd. Umpire claims the batter is entitled to first?
Answer—he is.

DARING PULASKI MERCHANT WRECKS BURGLARS' CAR

Collides Head on With Automobile Stolen at New London

New London—Well laid plans to steal a car, owned by Dr. A. C. Borchart of this city, and to burglarize a Pulaski clothier's store were frustrated early Thursday morning. The car has been returned to its owner damaged to some extent, but the men who drove it escaped. The car, parked near the Memorial hospital on St. John's place disappeared between 10 o'clock and 10:30 Wednesday night. Word was sent out by local police and the car was located at Pulaski. It was supposedly driven by two men who at about 3 o'clock attempted to steal clothing and shoes from a general store at Pulaski. A young man in the village returning from a dance heard the sound of breaking glass, and upon investigation discovered the men loading suits and other merchandise into the sedan. The owner of the store was aroused but when he reached the store the men jumped into the car and made a quick getaway from the town. The car, upon receiving word of the discovery of the car drove to Pulaski. The car has been returned to Dr. Borchart. Fenders, bumper and body were damaged.

Retired Oneida Minister, Once Scout In Union Army, Celebrates 84th Birthday

Special to Post-Crescent
Oneida—The Rev. J. S. Whiting, the only Civil war veteran in Oneida celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday last week. He still retains the vigor which marked his earlier career and marched in the Memorial day parade here with his younger buddies of the American legion.

When 16 years of age Mr. Whiting enlisted in Company E, Eleventh Michigan infantry and after serving six months reenlisted in Company K, Indiana, serving as a scout in eastern Tennessee until the end of the war. He was scouting at the foot of Lookout mountain when word was received that President Lincoln had been assassinated the day before.

Another incident that stands out in his recollection of war days is the capture of a man who had hanged his father because he had joined the Union army. The slayers' brother and mother, who were afraid for their lives notified Mr. Whiting where to capture him. He was taken to prison and later shot for patricide. The veterans also tells of how he had two horses shot under him and also had bullet holes in his coat but was never wounded. At the close of the war, Mr. Whiting became a Methodist minister and preached in the streets of Tennessee as a missionary for eight years. When he came to Wisconsin he was sent to Oneida and labored for 11 years among the Indians before retiring.

He is still actively engaged in running his small farm and in assisting Mrs. Whiting who operates a grocery store here. The Rev. and Mrs. Whiting are honorary members of the G. A. R. Circle in Appleton.

Martin Feldman, Kaukauna, and Miss Helen Koltaske, Neenah, were married at Immanuel Reformed church Thursday afternoon. The Rev. E. L. Worthman performed the ceremony. Attendants were Ervin Feldman, Chicago, brother of the bridegroom, and Miss Adelle E. Brown, Chicago. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at Neenah and the couple left on a wedding trip Friday morning. They will live in Kaukauna.

A special meeting of the F. and A. Masons was held Thursday evening in the Masonic hall. The F. C. degree was conferred.

Ladies of the St. Mary Catholic church held a public card party at the annex Thursday evening. Group No. 2 was in charge of the affair.

The choir of the Brokaw Memorial Methodist Episcopal church held a special rehearsal at the church Thursday evening.

QUESTION AS TO EFFECTIVENESS OF REDISCOUNT RATE

Federal Reserve Board and Treasury Department Expect Advance in Prices

BY J. C. ROYLE
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press

Washington.—(CPA)—Reduction in the rediscount rates by some of the Federal Reserve banks has aroused considerable controversy as to its effectiveness as a method of aiding business. There seems to be a general feeling around the Federal Reserve board and Treasury department that this will prove the most effective means of advancing prices of commodities.

Low prices of commodities are held responsible in many circles for the present business depression and lack of buying. It is quite natural that when commodities are low, consumers hold off in the hope that they will go lower and with the assurance that they can buy pretty much when and how they choose. The minute an advance starts there is a swing to the other side, as consumers become anxious to fill their needs before prices advance prohibitively.

Official opinion here was that the reduction which placed the New York rediscount rate on a par with Paris, the lowest in the world at present and the lowest in the history of the Federal Reserve system, would stimulate buying and that this buying would in turn stimulate commodity prices. There was some question raised, however, as to whether a reduction by one or two banks even though they were very important, would affect conditions which are common in other countries as well as the United States.

The treasury is still inclined to regard the new rate as somewhat of an experiment but high officials express the belief that the level fixed by the New York bank will result in the use of a large volume of funds for the purchase of commodities. It is not anticipated that definite results will be shown inside of the next three weeks but every indication is being closely watched.

TAKEN SOME TIME

On the other side of the argument, some bankers assert that commodities have been too badly battered to recover promptly or sharply. They assert that the mere hanging up of a quotation of 21 per cent in New York does not mean that the consumers of the country will rush in to borrow funds and to buy commodities. They say that until consumers are convinced that the demand from the general public will warrant such procedure, they will not buy even if interest rates were reduced still further. In conclusion they declare that the movement in the United States alone is not enough, and that similar movements must take place in London, Paris, Berlin and other banking centers which will induce territory tributary to those centers to move into the market for commodities. There is a rumor circulating about the Treasury and State departments that international bankers are discussing this situation individually, without regard to the Federal Reserve board and the Treasury department.

Secretary Mellon, according to his recent statements, relies far more on the stimulus provided by the passage of the tariff act than on the reduction in rediscount rates. The Secretary of the Treasury declared that the passage of the tariff law had removed an obstacle to business and that it would not destroy foreign trade, despite the gloomy prophecies which have been made concerning it.

PHOSPHORUS LACK CAUSES DISEASE

County Agent Points to Need for Element in Soil

BY W. F. WINSEY

Oconto—Two or three cases of the Pica disease or a break down from the lack of sufficient phosphorus have been discovered by County Agent J. I. Etheridge in Oconto county cows.

The county agent found the cows, although eating well, so extremely emaciated and weak that they could scarcely stand.

The cows had been milking since January but had been getting no bran, oil meal, cotton seed meal, nor any other feed rich in phosphorus, on account of the high price of these feeds and the low price of milk.

In diagnosing the malady, the county agent took into consideration that the soils of Oconto county are low in phosphate; that the roughages grown on these soils can contain but very little phosphate; that milk production and keeping the framework of the cows' bodies in repair and feeding unborn calves requires a great deal of phosphate.

As a cure for the weakness, Mr. Etheridge proposed a grain ration containing 20 per cent of bran, middlings, cotton seed meal or oil meal. The best time to build up the body of a cow, suffering from a lack of phosphorus, is while she is on pasture. This is done with wheat bran which contains three pounds phosphoric acid in each 100 pounds.

Various forms of bone meal are also rich in phosphorus, said the county agent. A good mixture to try if the cows can help themselves is a mixture of 175 pounds of steamed bone meal and 25 pounds of salt.

It has been demonstrated that roughages grown on soils low in phosphate, are also low in phosphate. The application of super-phosphate fertilizer on such soils will improve the roughages as feed for dairy cattle. The county agent believes that farmers will find it profitable to apply super-phosphate to their pastures. Cows, he says, if given a choice will graze on the portion of a pasture that has been treated with phosphate.

PROSPECT-AVE BRIDGE OPENS ON SATURDAY

The Prospect-ave bridge over Jackson-st., closed for the past month for repair work, will be opened Saturday, eliminating one of the obstructions to traffic that has been the bane of motorists this spring.

The new concrete roadway on the bridge has been hardening for the past three weeks, making it impossible for the bridge to be used for traffic, despite the fact that the repair work was completed.

2 GOVERNORS TRY TO RUN MEXICAN STATE

El Paso, Texas.—(P)—A special dispatch to El Continental, Spanish language newspaper here, today said Francisco Almada, governor of Chihuahua and Manuel Jesus Estrada, named provisional governor by the Prieto faction, both were attempting to handle governmental affairs from the governor's palace at Chihuahua City.

The dispatch added that agrarian forces were taking a "suspicious attitude," some apparently favoring Almada and others Estrada. Tremendous excitement prevailed in the streets, the message said. Many trucks carrying sympathizers of both parties were said to be parading the thoroughfares.

Federal troops were said to be in control of the situation but fears of grave consequences were expressed. It was reported agrarian forces from Villa Chautemec, village near Chihuahua City, were marching towards the capital, threatening Almada.

PAY $1,187 FOR MAKING REPORTS ON STATISTICS

Outagamie-co doctors, ministers, town, city and village clerks will receive checks sometime next week from the county in payment for reporting deaths, births and marriages to the state health department during the last year. A total of $1,187.85 is to be divided among the people who made reports to the state. Last year the county paid $1,257.50 for the same services. Payment ranges from 10 to 25 cents for each birth, death and marriage which is reported. The list of amounts due to each person making a report is prepared by Dr. C. A. Harper, head of the state department of health, and this list is certified to John E. Hantschel, county clerk. The list was received this week.

MOVIELAND AGOG WITH MINIATURE GOLF COURSE CRAZE

Hollywood Takes to Diminutive Sport—300 Courses in That City

BY JESSIE HENDERSON
(Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press)

Hollywood.—(CPA)—For the first time since the first movie studio began to function here, the cinema capital has an interest which in the minds of the ordinary citizens takes precedence of pictures. It has gone completely gaga over the miniature golf courses, and as a result the attendance at the picture palaces has distinctly dropped.

A month ago, there were 183 miniature golf courses in greater Los Angeles. Today, there are 376, of which 300 are in Hollywood alone, within six square blocks of Hollywood boulevard. Five of these courses are at present under construction. Trees have been hacked down, flowering shrubs yanked up, and grass plots have been laid out on the movie lots, and the faraway look in the eyes of your favorite in the next picture is due not so much to wistful emotion as to impatience to get away from the camera and back to the clubs.

PLAY AT NIGHT

By day, the tiny courses, numerous as gasoline stations, have their crowds of players. But after dark, thanks to plenty of lights, they are even more frequented. Stars and citizenry combine to discuss the hazards and whatnot of the different layouts. Lunch hours are spent in trying to make it under 45, and supper hours have developed into a soda and a sandwich.

No party these evenings is complete without a dash to some nearby course. This usually means the end of the party so far as anything but trick golf is concerned. And the newest idea in Hollywood parties is to go out to late dinner, dance a while, and then proceed from one all-night diminutive golf course to another until not only comes the dawn but likewise breakfast time.

Cynical observers say the craze is too furious to last, but the indications are that industry, citizenry and whatnot of the different layouts. Lunch hours are spent in trying to make it under 45, and supper hours have developed into a soda and a sandwich.

NEW POLITICAL PARTY IMPOSSIBLE THIS YEAR

Madison.—(P)—Recent agitation for a new political party in Wisconsin cannot bear fruit this year, under the provisions of the Wisconsin law.

Under the statute the final date for filing petitions for the formation of a political party and establishment of a party primary is June 15. Any new party formed in Wisconsin this year would have to run its candidates in the independent column, whether for state, congressional, senatorial or assembly districts.

MICHIGAN FARMERS LAUNCH ATTACK ON BADGER TAX SYSTEM
But Wisconsin Experts Defend Wisconsin Scheme Against Assault
Madison — (AP) — The Wisconsin tax system, which played a part in the Iowa Republican primaries several weeks ago, is being attacked from a new quarter — the Michigan State Farm Bureau.
The bureau points out in a series of articles that "if the farmers of Wisconsin made a holy crusade out of a demand for an income tax on the promise that its enactment would reduce or otherwise materially affect the general level of taxes on farms they have been cruelly disillusioned by the final results."
"In 1924," the bureau said, "property taxes on Dane county (Wis.) farmers were almost three times as high as those on the incomes of city and village residents. Wisconsin farmers had little excuse to expect more out of the law than they got."
Dr. Harold M. Groves, professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin and George L. Leffler, state research associate, both of whom made an extensive study of the income tax laws, this week defended the Wisconsin tax system.
"The main flaw in the attack of the Michigan State Farm Bureau is that it told only a part of the story," they said. "The taxes on Wisconsin farmers are high as those on individuals in cities—but they are apparently 50 per cent as high as those imposed on Michigan farmers. Farmers throughout the United States at present have heavy tax burdens but those in Wisconsin are below the United States average."
An investigation just completed by the United States department of Agriculture showed that farm taxes in Michigan took 58 per cent of the net rent received by owners on Michigan farms. A similar investigation just completed by Dr. Groves, covering farms in Dane county, Wisconsin, shows that the ratio of taxes to net farm rents is 29.4 per cent, or just half the burden of Michigan.

"Taxes are increasing faster in Michigan than they are in Wisconsin," Dr. Groves said. "From 1924 to 1929 general property taxes collected in Wisconsin increased 17.4 per cent. The corresponding increase in Michigan was nearly three times as large or 46.1 per cent. In the five years from 1924 to 1929 total taxes collected from all sources have increased 30.1 per cent in Wisconsin. The increase for Michigan was 57 per cent or nearly twice as rapid."
"The per capita increase in taxes collected in the last five years has been $19.26. In 1929 the total per capita tax bill in Wisconsin was $58.48, while Michigan had a burden of $63.55."
"That Wisconsin is doing much to relieve the tax burden on general property is shown by the fact that its tax in the last five years had averaged just 10 per cent of that of Michigan. The five year average is $1,553,000 in Wisconsin and $19,020,000 in Michigan."
"To contend that a moderate income tax will bring the tax burden for the farmer would be foolish. To contend that an income tax has nothing to offer the farmer in reduced taxes is equally foolish. There is no reason why a state should spend more money because it raises its revenue from two kinds of taxes instead of one. If that is true every dollar raised by a state or county from income taxes means just one dollar less from property taxes. The difference from the farmer's point of view is that he pays a large part of the property taxes and someone else pays most of the income taxes."

ROSENBERY LAUDS STATE TRIAL COURTS
Claims They Do Not Suffer from Lack of Administration of State Laws
Wausau — (AP) — Chief Justice Marvin B. Rosenbery of the state supreme court last night told delegates to the state bar association convention that Wisconsin's trial courts, "Despite whatever criticism that may be directed at them, are good. They do not suffer from lack of administration of the state's laws."
In speaking of what appeared to be a lack of law enforcement, Justice Rosenbery said:
"The operation of any law depends upon the attitude of persons living within the territory in which the law is to be enforced."
His address followed a banquet at which Atty. Gen. A. Pratt, Wausau, was toastmaster. Sessions were to close today with the election of officers.
Over-development of unit banks and failure of smaller institutions were blamed by W. H. Kleckhofer, professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin, for the impetus given bank merger tendencies. He said he did not regard consolidation of banks as looking toward monopoly. While there was no demand for branch banks over the entire country, he said, consolidated banks had their functions, especially in metropolitan districts. He advocated additional regulatory banking laws and advised cautious procedure in changing unit banks into group banks. The personal element necessary in group banks if they are to continue, he said.

SELL HELPS JUDGE BULLS AT OSHKOSH

American Army Officers Care For Star Mothers
St. Quentin, France — (AP) — American army officers are tenderly caring for the American Gold Star mothers and wives who are now visiting the tombs of their World War dead. And the Gold Star mothers are "mothering" these young officers, whom they call "their boys."
This ever thoughtful attitude of the American officer has also made a deep impression upon the French people of the districts visited.
"They are indeed gallant gentlemen," said an aged French mother as she saw the uniformed officers gently leading the women through the streets of her village.
The officers take special delight in going from table to table at meal time to see that every Gold Star mother gets just what she wants to eat. The mothers return the compliment and inquire whether their officer guides are quite comfortable.
French cooking pleases the Gold Star mothers, but their praise for French cooking does not extend to French coffee.
The mothers are not forgetting their men folk at home and members of one party answering a question as to what were the principal souvenirs bought to take home replied handkerchiefs and neckties.

SLAYING SUSPECT SHOT DEAD BY POSSE MEMBERS
Virginia, Minn. — (AP) — Gould Heath, 40, was in the county jail here today and his son, Charles Heath, 19, of Hibbing, was dead as the result of a long manhunt for suspects in the death of Norman D. Fairbanks, Sr., of Hibbing, a deputy game warden.
The search had been on since April 2 when Fairbanks, seeking illegal trappers, was shot while he was at a cabin in the Wolf Lake district in this north woods country.
The posse came upon Heath and his son late yesterday 21 miles north west of Gheen. Charles Heath, the officers reported, failed to heed a command to surrender and fired at the possemen. The officers returned the fire and he was killed. The father dropped his gun and was arrested.
James Schuyler, Menasha, was fined $10 and costs by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Friday morning when he pleaded guilty of driving an automobile without proper license plates. Schuyler's arrest followed an automobile accident in the town of Oneida several weeks ago. Several people suffered minor injuries and in the investigation which followed it was discovered that Schuyler's car was bearing license plates which had been issued to another car. The complaint against Schuyler was made by Z. Skendore, Oneida constable, and Sheriff John Lappen made the arrest.

FLASHES OF LIFE
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
New York — Miss Mary Powell's pet name for her fiancé, Major Charles E. Kingsford-Smith, trans-Atlantic aviator, is Chilla. The major so signed a "Cheerio, Darling" message, sent from his plane to her in Melbourne.
Ann Arbor, Mich. — Evidently the young lady knew. Admiral Byrd in introductory remarks at banquets has said that he is like Larry Gould, his second in command, in writing to his sweetheart; he doesn't know what he is going to say and when he has finished doesn't know what he has said. Prof. Lawrence M. Gould of the University of Michigan, has applied for a license to marry Miss Margaret Rice, who was graduated from the university last year.
Baltimore — A millionaire is a newspaper woman's scoop. The engagement is announced of Miss Anne Seddon Kinsolving of Baltimore and John Nicholas Brown of Providence, R. I. Miss Kinsolving, daughter of an Episcopal rector, has worked as reporter and publicity agent. Mr. Brown, who inherited millions, received much attention in the past as the richest baby in the world.
New York — Captain J. Patrick, sail navigator of the Southern Cross, can cross mighty oceans three ways; in fact has done so. He has been a master of sail and steam and made his first trip to New York in a square rigged, the trip taking six months in contrast to the plane's two days.
An annual shooting match followed by a dance is held at Warren-ton, Mo. It dates from 1856.

PLAN RESTRICTION OF BROADCASTING ON QUOTA BASIS
Davis Amendment to Radio Law Provides for a Mathematical Allocation
BY ROBERT MACK (Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press)
Washington — (CPA) — Gradual curtailment of broadcasting facilities in areas which now are "over-quota" is planned by the Federal Radio commission as a means of equalizing the distribution of stations, power and hours of operation as required by law.
A new method of evaluating broadcasting stations as a means of more effectively calculating the distribution of facilities has been adopted by the commission as a forerunner of this gradual transition, which it effected, will hit hard such localities as Chicago, New York, and Los Angeles.
Under this unit system it was calculated that there now are 423 broadcasting "units" distributed throughout the nation. The commission has designated the arbitrary figure of 400 units as the maximum that should be allowed, and its plan is to prune down to that total.
Heretofore the Commission has had no standard for determining the comparative value of broadcasting facilities, and consequently there was no clear-way of showing just how station power and hours of operation were distributed. The Davis amendment to the radio law, the target of widespread criticism, specifies that broadcasting facilities, as nearly as possible be allocated among the states and the five radio zones into which the nation is divided, according to population.
With the new unit "yardstick" the distribution is obtained by simple mathematics. A station of 1,000 watts operating on a channel with other stations constitutes a full unit. A "cleared channel" station, using 5,000 watts or more is credited as 5 units. The formula covers in unit value, all other classes of stations, on a graduated scale with the one unit as the base.
The arbitrary 400-unit maximum adopted, provides that each of the five zones have an aggregate of 80 units. It so happens now that only two of the zones, the Eastern and East Central are under their quotas, while the three others are from 9 to nearly 20 units over. Each zone, it is provided, shall be entitled to 47 units on "cleared channels," to 26 units on regional or intermediate channels with stations having power from 250 to 1,000 watts, and to 7 units in local channels, or low-powered stations with power up to 250 watts.
The Eastern zone, despite the location of New York within its borders, is 6.42 units below its rightful quota of 80. The East Central is minus 11.59 units, while the Southern zone is 9.43 units over. The Middlewestern zone 19.64 units over and the Western zone 12.82 units over, or at total for the country of 23.88 units over the 400 maximum.
Broken down to the units distributed among the states, as against the number to which they are en-

RURAL COMMITTEE HEAD OUTLINES NEW PROGRAM
W. E. Smith, new chairman of the rural affairs committee of the chamber of commerce is now working on a tentative program which is to be presented soon to the board of directors for consideration. Members of his committee will be appointed in the very near future by Harvey Schlitz, chamber president, according to Kenneth Corbett, secretary.

A. A. L. HEAD BACK FROM NEBRASKA MEET
A. O. Benz, vice president of the Aid Association for Lutherans, returned Thursday from Norfolk, Neb. where he was the principal speaker at a district rally of A. A. L. representatives early in the week. He also was the principal speaker at a mass picnic in Norfolk last Sunday afternoon. Thursday morning Mr. Benz met with representatives of the Illinois district in Chicago.

titled under the Davis amendment, the tabulation shows that Illinois leads the pack with 11.78 units in excess, directly attributable to the fact that Chicago, with its preponderance of stations is the most thickly populated broadcasting area in the world. Texas is more than 7 units over; California more than 6 units; Iowa more than 5 units; Tennessee nearly 6 units, New York nearly 5 units and Florida more than 4 units.

In the states of New York, Illinois and California, the excesses are found in the metropolitan areas. To effect the contemplated curtailment, the Commission would have to strike with most force at the large cities with their over-abundance of stations.

CHURCH ACTIVITIES MARKED BY ADVENT OF EPISCOPAL RECTOR
Pastor of All Saints Church Assumes Duties in This City
The advent of a new pastor into Appleton church circles was the outstanding event of the church week. The Rev. Lyle Douglas Utts, new rector of All Saints Episcopal church, preached his first sermon in Appleton Sunday morning, taking for his sermon topic, "The Three Crosses."
The Methodist-Presbyterian and Baptist Daily Vacation Bible school closed this week, the former on Thursday and the latter on Friday. The four-hundredth anniversary of the Augsburg Confession was observed at First English Lutheran and Zion Lutheran churches, on Sunday.
Hilmer and Wilmer Grunewald, students of theology at Eden, seminary, St. Louis, Mo., preached at St. John Evangelical church Sunday and Dr. J. R. Denyes delivered the sermon at Memorial Presbyterian church. At the Baptist church a Biblical drama, "Cain and Abel," was given by a group of young people, at the evening service.
Christian Endeavor meetings at First Reformed church have been discontinued for the summer. The Reformed church Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Gust Jahn, Thursday.
The Catholic Girls camp on Shawano Lake will open for an eight weeks' period on Saturday. Miss Margaret Keller of this city will act as assistant councillor.

ENGINEERS REPORT U. S. DEVELOPMENT OF RIVERS UNNECESSARY

Electric Power Can Be Developed by Private Interests—Harbors O. K.

BY RUBY A. BLACK
Post-Crescent Wash. Corrs.
Washington — Federal improvement of the Peshtigo and Oconto rivers for a unified plan for navigation, flood control, power development and irrigation is not warranted at the present, War department engineers have reported to Congress following a survey of these two streams flowing into Green Bay. Both streams have possibilities for further power development, the engineers said, but hydroelectric development by private interests will not affect any federal interest, they decided.

The 110-mile Oconto river now has two power plants with a total installed capacity of 4,881 horsepower. Construction of storage reservoirs and three new power plants would make possible generation of an additional 7,680 horsepower "at reasonable cost," the engineers reported, adding that this can be properly left to private interests.

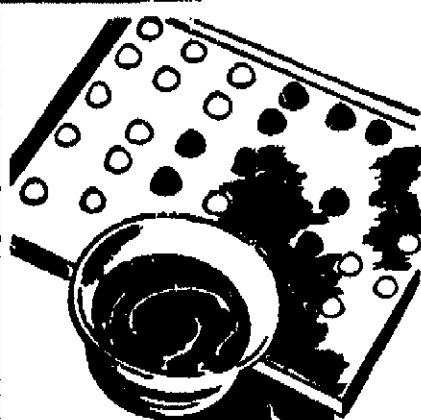

No further improvement of Oconto harbor is warranted, they said. The present project calls for protection of the mouth of the river by piers, for a 15-foot channel and for a turning basin 800 feet above the mouth of the river. No work has been done there by the federal government for some time and the controlling depth in the harbor is now only 5 feet. The harbor in its present condition is sufficient for the needs of the small "present and prospective" commerce, there, in fish conveyed in small launches, the engineers declare, and "extension of the project to the upper end of the river would be unduly expensive."

DISCOURAGING FOR SURVEY
This is discouraging for the outcome of the survey authorized in the rivers and harbors bill just passed, which is to be made with a view to further improvement of the harbor.

The Oconto has a drainage area of 990 square miles. The Peshtigo is 140 miles long and has a drainage area of 1,100 square miles, mostly consisting of second-growth timber land and small cultivated areas. Before 1893, there was considerable commerce in lumber, but this was discontinued 32 years ago and about 10 years later the car ferry was discontinued, the report said. There has never been any federal improvement for navigation purposes and the engineers believe none is needed.

There are now six power plants with a total installed capacity of 32,278 horsepower. With additional reservoirs, an additional 22,800 horsepower could be developed, but this can be carried out by private interests when the demand for electricity justifies it, without affecting federal interests, the report said. There is no need for flood control works or irrigation on the Peshtigo, they said.

TRIED ALL KINDS OF LAXATIVES

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Gave Only Permanent Relief

As everybody knows, the market is flooded with cathartics, pills and patent compounds for the relief of constipation. At best, whatever results are obtained are temporary. Besides, there is the danger in certain drugs and the habit-forming menace.

Mr. P. M. Fisher, 517 Olive Street, Scranton, Pa., has something to say on this subject which will be interesting to all constipation sufferers. He says:

"For many years I suffered from constipation and used, for relief, all kinds of laxatives. After a few days' treatment, I would only find my condition the same as before and at times worse."

"Some time ago I started to use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly, once a day as directed. Since doing this, I have found that I do not need any other medicine to procure the desired result, and it keeps me in a very healthful condition."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or the purchase price will be refunded.

In addition, it adds needed iron to the diet. You will like its delicious flavor. There are many delightful ways to eat it. Your grocer has Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

CLOVER, ONCE DESPISED NOW USED EXTENSIVELY
Chicago—(A)—A weed with a lot of punch, despised and hacked at for 2,000 years, finally has got a break.
Necessity and science met up with sweet clover only a few years ago. Necessity needed some means of supplying new fertility to American soils at low cost. Science found the former "weed" an answer to all requirements.

Illinois, leading sweet clover state, planted 750,000 acres in 1929 as compared to 40,000 acres 10 years ago. Tests there show that an acre of it, plowed under in the spring, will add from 100 to 200 pounds of nitrogen to the soil and increase the subsequent corn crop from 10 to 15 bushels an acre.
Sweet clover was known to the Caesars. It reached America in 1739, where its determined growth caused disfavor.

Fried Chicken, Sat Nite, Nick Ekes at Kimberly.
Canberra—(A)—The cornerstone has been laid here for a Roman Catholic church to cost $2,500,000. The ceremony was attended by Prime Minister Scullin and Commonwealth Treasurer Theodore, both members of the faith, and many church dignitaries.

JACQUELINE ON HER OWN

by RICHARD STARR

SYNOPSIS: It was a romance of the drapery counter of Byrams, Limited, at least William Brown considered it so. But Jacqueline Grey, the petite object of his affections, who most recently had been promoted to models, had other ideas.

The fourth time they had been to a London theater and Mr. Brown held her hand, Jacqueline decided it was time to reach an understanding. The rather handsome Mr. Brown is amazed to learn that holding her hand is not the prerogative of her escort. In a restaurant he blurts out his love for Jacqueline, who at the moment is more interested in learning from a man at another table, that one "should put their shirt on Pinkie, a 100-1 shot, in the Warwickshire handicap." Jacqueline hears Mr. Brown profess his love for her and offer marriage. She declines with grateful appreciation.

Chapter 2
A FOX OF GOLD
It was a blow to Mr. Brown to have Jacqueline refuse him. Somehow he had not speculated upon that possibility so sure had he been that the progress he had made portended a successful culmination of his rather old fashioned courtship.

As he gazed at Jacqueline's lovely brown eyes he could see that it did hurt her to reveal her feelings. "I'm a steady man," he pleaded. "I don't drink, and I've cut out horse-racing and all that. I save money. I've got nearly a hundred pounds—"

"Please, Mr. Brown," Jacqueline interrupted, and her eyes were misty. "Let's not say any more about it. I am sure you would not be happy if you married me. I might not always be the same color, you know."

"There is somebody else," said Mr. Brown gloomily. "There is nobody else at all, Mr. Brown," she replied. "There is. I believe Keswick Dell wants to marry you."

"Oh, yes, I believe he does," Jacqueline readily agreed, "but I assure you I like you a heap better than Mr. Dell. I wouldn't marry him if he were the last man in the world."

"You see, Mr. Brown, you're too steady for me. Perhaps it's wrong of me, but I want to see life. I want to have my fling. Once I saved 10 pounds and spent it in one evening, but it was the greatest night of my life and well worth it."

Brown looked as if he were about to faint as Jacqueline continued. "I lived the life of a lady that night. I hired an evening dress—a very beautiful one. Then I went to the Savoy for dinner and sat all alone in gorgeous state. At the table next to mine was a peer of the realm—an earl and his two daughters, and I don't mind telling you that little Jacqueline attracted more attention than his children."

"Afterwards I took my coffee and cigarette in the palm court until my car arrived."

"Your car?" muttered Mr. Brown. "Yes, I had a private car. An attendant came in and announced 'Miss Grey's car.' You should have seen Miss Grey walk out of that lounge. That alone was worth 10 pounds. Then I drove to the opera."

She decided to give him a word of advice before she left. "I'm very glad you've got money, Dobbin, and it doesn't matter to me what you do with it. But be sensible. Give yourself a week's holiday. Coddle yourself a bit and get well."

She left him and in the dingy darkness of Paradise Road a man jostled her. He disappeared like a shadow.

A moment later Jacqueline discovered that her handbag was gone. Her presentiment was grave. With the bag was gone every penny she had with her. All hopes of getting back to Byrams before closing time vanished. The order had gone out that the next assistant to come in after 10 p. m. would be dismissed.

With a heavy heart Jacqueline began the long tramp across London.

CONTINUED BEAR MOVEMENT HOLDS STOCK MART DOWN

Prices Sag Again, Although High Closing Inspired Hopes of Traders

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor
New York (AP)—The latest glimmer of speculative optimism in Wall Street was very nearly extinguished by still another bear drive in today's stock market. Prices sagged substantially, bear trading was dull, the market had to be pushed to close higher on two successive days for the first time this month, which, in the opinion of professional traders, was about the best that could be expected with speculative enthusiasm so close to the vanishing point.

The huge decrease of $371,000,000 in brokers' loans failed to stimulate any considerable short covering. With brokerage loans at their present low levels, Wall Street has been more interested in bank loans on securities and three loans have tended to increase. Security loans of New York members banks showed a decrease of about $30,000,000, while their loans to brokers were cut $36,000,000, possibly indicating further shift of loans from brokerage accounts directly to the banks.

Since the American Tobacco extra and splitup announcement stimulating business news has been scarce. Further railway net operating income receipts for May were about the only items of interest to stock market circles, and reports by such roads as New York Central and Southern Pacific showing declines of about 40 per cent from the like period of last year were not encouraging. The current slump in the textile industry was emphasized by the department of commerce's May statistics for wool consumption showing only about 28,000,000 pounds used, against 32,000,000 in April, and 42,000,000 in May, 1929.

The market rallied a little in the opening transactions, but quickly weakened. Although commission houses report considerable investment buying, there is decidedly no inclination to reach for stocks on rallies. Many brokers feel that the market is being overdone, but can find no good reason as yet for putting stocks higher. One stock exchange house said in advice to its customers that "no amount of talking can make a bull market until fundamental conditions are right."

Bears singled out Southern Railway and North American for their especial attention. Southern was sent down more than 3 points to another new low, reflecting further uneasiness over the fact that earnings are running behind dividend requirements to have made provisions for this year's payments, at least. North American was sent down more than 6 points to a new 1930 low under 90. Shares losing 5 points or more included Allied Chemical, Northern Pacific, Goodyear and Eastman, U. S. Steel, Radio, General Motors, American Can, General Electric, American Telephone, New Haven, Westinghouse, American Tobacco B, and Du Pont lost 2 to 4 points, or more. Among the more volatile issues, Auburn and Case tumbled more than 10.

The commodity markets were again inclined to sag.

The sinking spell which the market suffered most of the day was dissipated in the final hour when short covering caused rebounds of 1 to 2 points. Allied Chemical made up all of its 7 point decline. The close was heavy and total sales approximated 2,100,000 shares.

WALL STREET BRIEFS

New York—Fabricated steel plate orders in May totaled 28,678 tons, compared with 37,703 tons in April and 47,715 tons in May last year. Orders for the five months ended May 31 amounted to 182,336 tons, compared with 238,535 tons in the corresponding period last year.

A special meeting of stockholders of J. G. White & Co., has been called for July 21 to vote on a plan approved by directors to split the common stock on a five for one basis and increase the authorized common to 500,000 shares from 20,000. The new common would have a par value of $20, instead of $100 as at present.

Adolf Gobel, Inc., has called its outstanding 10-year 6 per cent notes on July 7 at 104 and accrued interest.

Directors of the Diamond Match Co. have determined to proceed with the preparation of a plan for reorganization and recapitalization of the company, President Fairburn announced. He said it is expected the plan, which the board is convinced will benefit stockholders, will be submitted to the stockholders during the latter part of the summer.

CHICAGO PRODUCE

Chicago (AP)—Former price levels were maintained in butter and eggs. Trade in both was moderately active and receipts were larger, but not considered excessive. Poultry was inclined to lower levels.

HOGS HIGHER IN EARLY TRADING

Outsiders' Support Enables Market to Advance 10 Cents

Chicago (AP)—Hogs sought higher levels on initial trading. Outsiders gave the market sufficient support during the first hours to lift values a dime and $9.10 and $9.15 was paid for lights and butchers. Packing shows small weights in particularly selling at $8.00-$8.25 freely. Offerings of 22,000 included 9,000 direct to packers and 7,000 state hogs were on hand.

Cattle receipts of 2,000 were too light to attract a full complement of buyers, and little stuff in the offerings was suitable for eastern shipments. A quiet trade with no material price changes was expected to clear the alleys.

Packers received 3,500 lambs direct from outside points out of the total supply of 5,000. No range lambs were on sale but packers reported a big batch of California lambs included in their direct receipts.

PRICES ON CHICAGO MARKET DEPRESSED

Sharp Decrease in New Car Sales Open Up Selling Flurries

Chicago (AP)—Reports of a sharp decrease in new car sales in the middle west during May started selling flurries on the Chicago stock exchange today, and while recessions were not large in volume especially heavy, prices were distinctly depressed.

Boig-Warner slipped a point to a record low of 24 1/2, Bendix fell 2 to sell below 28, and Auburn ran down 10 to 95, only a few points above its lowest mark of 92 for the year. No-bills lost over 3, dropping below its 1930 minimum of 1.

Midwest was steady around 2 1/2 in fairly active dealings, and Cities Service varied but a small fraction around 2 1/2.

Majestic moved up over a point to 40 1/2 in initial sales, but later receded to below 39 and fluctuated within range of a point around those marks. Grigsby was easier below 16.

Dorg-Warner and Bendix both slipped small fractions and Insull utility investment sold off slightly.

BOND PRICES HOLD AT THURSDAY LEVELS

New York (AP)—The listed bond market was lackadaisical today. Prices held close to the previous day's level in dull and featureless trading and the volume of sales continued to decline from the peak reached during the heavy selling the forepart of the week.

A few corporation bonds, particularly among railroad obligations were accumulated in small volume at slightly higher prices but few important changes occurred in the early trading.

Call money renewed at 2 per cent and other factors which should influence a robust bond market remained unchanged. The quiet course of prime railroad bonds this week indicates a marked warning of interest among institutions whose buying for weeks sustained this group while the rest of the market followed an erratic course.

An accumulation of railroad bonds on which some gains were shown were unusually small. Chicago and Northwestern 4s, showed rising tendencies. Canadian Pacific 5s were active and lower. Many other issues were dull and motionless.

Utility issues moved narrowly. The trend among industrials was irregular with fluctuations narrow. Convertible and warrant issues displayed a preponderance of reactionary sentiment as stocks dipped.

The market for foreign issues was confined to a small list with prices today. United States governments were practically motionless.

KANSAS REPORTS HAVE GOOD EFFECT ON WHEAT MARKET

Claim Farmers Are Piling Their Wheat on Ground—Make Few Deliveries

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago (AP)—Reports that Kansas farmers are piling their wheat on the ground and making few deliveries except for storage counted today as a strengthening market factor. On the other hand, the movement of wheat in the southwest taken as a whole continued to be of fairly liberal volume, eight points receiving a total of 1,662 cars today. Some selling here resulted from reported rains in Alberta Province, Canada, but there were also advices that crop prospects in various Canadian districts remain subnormal.

Wheat closed firm, at the same as yesterday's finish to 3c higher, July 21-92; Sept. 54 1/2; Dec. 1.01 1/2.

Corn closed unchanged to 3c up, July 75 1/2; Sept. 74 1/2; Dec. 63 1/2.

Oats 1-3c off, and provisions varying from 2c decline to an equal gain.

Explaining the many nervous changes in wheat values today was talk current that a sick man does not get well in a day, and that the wheat market could not be expected to advance continuously after the severe shocks that it has suffered of late. Moreover, indications appeared plain that many traders bullishly inclined were disposed to proceed with caution, and to avoid purchasing on bulges in prices, but seizing houses with eastern connections were conspicuous at times as buyers opportunistic to buy on setbacks.

Tending to lift wheat values today were estimates that North American export business yesterday and today totaled more than 2,500,000 bushels. Kansas advices were also received that many farmers were storing their wheat in the fields, and are planning to let the wheat remain right there until the market radically improves. Some notice was also taken of messages from a leading crop authority that in a drive of 200 miles from Mitchell, S. D., he has found black rust in all wheat fields inspected, ranging from the lower to the top sheath but not on the main straw.

Cash wheat was sold on an unchanged trading basis today although a slight improvement was noted on choice spring grades. Shipping sales reached 12,000 bushels. There were further bookings at 2 cents under the September futures price. The seaboard estimated a 2,000,000 bushel export business.

Cash corn prices were steady to 1 cent higher and the bush 1 to 2 lower. Charters for 120,000 bushels to Georgian Bay were made. Cancellations amounted to 42,131 bushels; bookings to arrive 23,500 bushels; and shipping sales 94,000 bushels. Cash oats prices were generally unchanged. Shipping sales were 117,000 bushels and 140,000 bushels were chartered to Georgian Bay.

FAIR TRADE SEEN IN CHICAGO AREA

No Indication Given of Betterment in Near Future Report Says

Chicago (AP)—Broadstreet's weekly review of Chicago trade today says: "Trade developments during the week indicated no pronounced new features, there being a fair average business in all lines, with no indication of betterment in the near future. The fourth of July holiday is just ahead and the coming weeks business is expected to be light."

"The steel industry in the west is doing better than the east and operating capacity of 70 per cent to a shade under in the Chicago district. Pipe line business is lighter, and sheets are moving slowly with mills at 50 per cent capacity and structural operations are at 60 to 65 per cent and bars 65 per cent."

Pig iron prices are off 50c a ton to $18.00, with buying slow and operating capacity reduced.

"Large buyers of coal are holding off but are expected to take supplies more freely the coming month. With the lumber industry there is nothing to inspire enthusiasm, although there are more bookings of walnut, the aggregate for the month being the heaviest so far this year. Consumption of gasoline has greatly increased. There are around 20,000 Rotarians here from all over the world, and buying of all kinds of merchandise was enlarged, it being one of the best weeks of the season. Wholesalers of drygoods reported and increase in road sales. June business in practically all lines has fallen below last year's with possibly the exception of retailers, who had a good business in the last two weeks, especially in women's and men's summer apparel."

"Six months' sales by wholesalers of drygoods and merchandise are off 10 per cent, or possibly a little more from last year. Retail sales also show moderate decreases and six months' business in steel is fully 25 per cent under 1929 in output and consumption. It compares fairly with that of 1928."

"Monthly and half yearly settlements brought increased borrowing of money and annual calls for crop moving purposes was also a factor. Collections are fair."

LESS OPTIMISM AND ACTIVITY IN WOOL

Boston (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin of Boston tomorrow will say: "The wool market is less active and hardly so optimistic, in consequence of the sale of some low-priced fine tops. Induced, it is believed by general commodity and stock market conditions. The majority of the trade, however, believe that the market is fundamentally sound and that even though the heavy weather season be far from successful. The last half of the year will see a better business."

"Foreign markets are low and generally in favor of the buyer, although Australia kept surprisingly steady this week. European markets are awaiting the opening of the London auctions July 8, when offerings of 155,000 lbs are expected."

"The activities in the west are gradually subsiding. With 85 per cent of the new clip moved, this is only natural. Prices are at the top as the season ends, 25 cents being paid for the best Montana clips."

"Mohair still is slow and prices are hardly changed at about 40 cents for original adult Texas hair."

"The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from Jan. 1, 1930 to June 26, 1930, inclusive were 66,070,000 pounds against 87,133,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from Jan. 1, 1930 to June 26, 1930, inclusive were 137,610,000 pounds against 141,161,855 pounds for the same period last year."

DEMOCRATS HIT BY LARGE VOTE FOR AL SMITH IN 1928

Must Secure Larger Number of Signatures on Nomination Papers

Madison—(P)—The large vote cast by Alfred D. Smith in Wisconsin in 1928 may prove a handicap to many Democratic candidates for state offices this year.

In order to place his name on the primary election ballot of his party under the Wisconsin election law, a candidate must secure one per cent of the total number of votes cast for his party's nominee for president at the previous election. The large number of votes cast for Al Smith in Wisconsin thus raises the number of signatures formerly required.

Based upon the vote in the last general election, Democrat candidates for governor and other state offices will have to secure 4,503 signatures to their nomination papers this year in order to have their names placed on the ballot for the Democratic primary.

The Republicans, on the other hand, are required to have only 543 names although they represent the majority party in the state. In the fourth and fifth congressional districts, the Democrats will be required to file more signatures to get into the primary than will Republican candidates.

In the fourth district, Democratic candidates will be required to file 899 names while Republican candidates must file only 694. Democrats in the fifth district must file 123 signatures to 958 for the Republicans.

In the first senatorial district, comprising Manitowoc, Kewaunee and Door counties, Republican candidates will file only 352 signatures to get a place on the ticket in the party primary, but the Democratic candidates must file 503 signatures. In the thirteenth senatorial district, the Democratic candidates will be required to file 461 names and the Republican candidates only 15 names. This district comprises Dodge and Washington counties.

In a number of assembly districts Democratic candidates will have to secure more signatures in order to get their names into the Democratic primary than Republicans will have to secure to get a place in the Republican primary.

The final date for filing nomination papers is August 12. The nomination papers of assembly candidates are filed with the county clerk except where the assembly district

Talks To Parents

PARASITES BY ALICE JUDSON PEALE

It was Teddy's misfortune that other children saw in him only someone who spoiled their games and who was forever blundering about and breaking their toys with his clumsy movements.

When in a misguided moment of kindness they tried to include him, he was sure to spoil things by forgetting whether he was supposed to be in a boat or an automobile or by doing something else grossly out of character with the part he was to play.

In short, Teddy was a parasite in the play world of children of his own age. He wanted to be one of them, but he had nothing to contribute and children are invariably cruel to such as he.

No amount of moral suasion will make them considerate or friendly toward one who offers nothing and who becomes thereby a deadweight in the serious business of their play.

There are many children who are not so different from Teddy and their mothers were wise to realize that there is no use struggling against the brutalities which any group of children directs toward the noncontributor.

The only way to enable a child to hold his own is to see to it that he knows how to do his share and make his contribution to the satisfactions of the group.

In order to do this it is necessary to supply him with a home atmosphere that is congenial to initiative and imagination. He must be given interesting experiences from which to draw the content for his play schemes.

If then, he still fails to make a happy adjustment in the group in which he finds himself, it is up to his parents to find the particular school or play group that is suitable to his type.

NEWFOUNDLAND MAY BE ABANDONED AS AIRPLANE LANDING

Nearness to Magnetic Pole Causes Trouble for Oceanic Flyers

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press

New York—(CPA)—Unless the earth inductor compass can be further developed, aviators here are inclined to think that Newfoundland will have to be shelved as a target for Trans-Atlantic flyers. While the jump to the grand banks is the shortest route from Europe, the magnetic pole is just a hand's reach beyond, in the Hudson bay region, and it is small wonder that Major Kingsford-Smith's compass got nervous and left him blind in the fog.

Pearry, McMillan and other Arctic explorers all have reported erratic compass behavior in the neighborhood of the magnetic pole. It is impossible to rely on the charted latitudinal variations ordinarily used in compass navigation.

John Stannage, English radio operator, and Captain Saul, Irish navigator of the Southern Cross in its Atlantic hop, are credited here with remarkable teamwork in feeling out their course through the smothering fog, with the compass running wild and only an occasional wisp of a radio beam to guide them.

RADIO SCORED

Radio is given a high score in this performance and when the technical achievement of the Southern Cross is analyzed, it is probable that the flight will record a greater advance in directional radio than in any other detail of aerial navigation.

The American army air service gets credit for pioneering this kind of flying. Six years ago, the army radio experts began a series of experiments in Ohio Parallel radio beams, a few feet apart, were laid down as a lane for the guidance of a plane. The plane was equipped with sounders, flying directly between the beams, the pilot would get an even blend of sound from the two sides, swerving to port or starboard, the noise would increase on that side and warn him that he was getting off course.

The opening experiments were highly successful. A plane was driven unerringly on a course of 100 miles by radio beams. That was one of the important beginnings of a development which quite possibly saved the lives of Major Kingsford-Smith and his mates when they drove their plane out of the night skies into the great white depths over Newfoundland.

MAKES PROGRESS

Directional radio, in fact all radio communication for planes, has advanced greatly since Admiral Byrd, then Commander Byrd, reached France, under circumstances quite similar to the last chapter of the flight of the Southern Cross. Admiral Byrd, however, attained his goal at night and could be saved by neither compass nor radio. Like Kingsford-Smith, he was saved by cool and competent navigation, but it was a glint of early morning light, breaking through the fog, which enabled the Australian flyer to attain his definite objective—a landing field.

With the excitement attending the Lindbergh, Byrd, and Chamberlain-Levine flights, there were many prophecies of swift scientific conquests of fog and darkness menacing aviators. Now, strange, inert gas, just then coming into practical use, was to provide a penetrating ray, piercing the murky and raising a beacon visible far out at sea. There were researches in the possibility of equipping a plane with an instrument responsive to the magnetic currents traversing the undersea cables. This instrument also was to be used to enable a plane to follow current-laden land wires. The earth inductor compass was to respond to steady terrestrial magnetic currents, freeing air navigators from the vagaries of the northern magnetic zone. There were experiments with instruments for detecting the baffling side drift in a fog—now conceded to be an all but insuperable problem.

FAIL TO ARRIVE

The flying Utopia failed to arrive. Radio—directional and communicating—forged ahead, but Major Kingsford-Smith has again demonstrated that in the more desperate hazards of the air, and human factors of competence, resourcefulness and luck, plus power and perfect mechanical performance, still make up the bulk of the equation. It is true that great advances have been made in blind flying, in the experiments conducted by the Guggenheim foundation, but they were more or less laboratory affairs and did not range over the perilous fog-ridden depths of the near Arctic.

New York gets ready for the arrival of the Southern Cross, as radio and land wires clock the steady flight of the plane down from Harbor Grace, still battling head winds, but with the worst behind her now

EXPECT TO START P. O. PLANS SOON BY RUBY A. BLACK Post-Crescent Washington Correspondent

Washington—As soon as the topographical survey of the site of the new Appleton post office is checked and approved, Treasury architects will start preparing plans and specifications for the $200,000 structure.

Representative George J. Schneider of Appleton has just conferred with the treasury department on the status of Appleton's new federal building. He was told that as soon as every detail of the topographical survey is carefully checked, plans for the building will be rushed.

An additional appropriation request, provided to employ additional architects will enable the department to start up work on plans which formerly required several months to complete.

Treasury officials would not forecast just when they could advertise for bids on contracts for the construction of the building.

Robert M. Connelly of Appleton made the topographical survey, but of $150.00 for the job being the lowest offered. His report is now in the hands of the treasury department.

Three Bids for Your Mileage Contract

PERHAPS you think of your stops for gas just as single transactions, each standing alone. But in the Wadhams view, the sum of these repeated stops represents a vastly important total. In reality, you stand as a buyer of miles by the year. This contract that you have to award is a heavy and valuable one, worthy of the strongest possible effort to win.

Rightness of service, rightness of product is the Wadhams bid for that business—expressed in treatment of your visit at the pumps and the readiness to supply exactly the right oil and the right gasoline to fit your needs. That is why are tendered to you in three highly specialized forms one of which is certain to be precisely—not nearly, or almost—right for your individual needs.

"370"—the summer high—if your motor is of the medium compression type, or has passed the peak of its first efficiency.

Wadhams with ETHYL if your motor is of the modern high compression design, needing extreme power delivery without noisy knocking.

Wadhams Special—the superior low test—if you are convinced that greatest economy is represented by smaller outlay per fill.

Each has its particular point of difference—and what is even more important—its point of similarity, for each is a representative of the true Wadhams character which for years on end has proved the winning bid for the greatest popularity ever accorded to motor fuels in this territory.

Others who will appear on the program are Mrs. Letitia Jones Hoe, contralto, assisted by Miss Dobrinski, reader, and the Rev. Melbourne P. Boynton.

Grand lodge night in charge of officers of the organization with the Rev. North principal speaker will be held at 8 o'clock the evening of July 23.

MAY SELL PERISHABLE MATTER ON HIGHEST BID

Under a recent ruling the postmaster general, according to word received at the local postoffice, all undeliverable perishable matter may be sold by the local office to the highest bidder where there is insufficient time to return the material to the sender before the contents would spoil. The amount realized, less a commission of 10 percent, will be remitted by the office to the sender. In no case must the amount of commission be less than 15 cents.

When articles of a perishable nature cannot be sold at competitive sale then the department may deliver them to the proper municipal authorities to be distributed to hospitals, asylums or other charitable or reformatory institutions.

LOCAL LIBRARY HAS "WHITE HOUSE" BOOKS

POOR COSTS FELL IN LAST MONTH

Unemployment Situation Fails to Raise Aid Extended by City

Despite the unemployment conditions in the city, the expenditures of the city poor department for May fell almost $200 below those of May, 1929. However, W. L. Lyons, poor commissioner, predicts that June will show an increase as there have already been a number of heavy expenses.

The actual amount expended during May was $1,938.01, but with credits of $219.85 the cost of the department for the month was $1,468.16, compared to $1,623.39 in May, 1929. Last month 60 families, including 72 adults and 100 children, were given aid, whereas in May, 1929, only 75 persons were assisted. There were 16 inmates of the City Home last month, compared to 20 the year before.

Almost the entire amount spent last month went for outside aid, the City home costing only $167.84. The 60 families assisted received $1,158.83. Last May outside aid cost $877.29 and the City home, $414.15. Groceries, the chief expense last month amounted to $399.70, of which $69.50 was distributed in outside aid. Hospital care and special nursing cost $388.20, medical aid $49, rent $179, and board $85.

How To Shop

By William H. Baldwin

Lightness, whiteness, and pliability in the sweatband are three important factors in the selection of the stiff straw hat. The first and third control the comfort of summer weather headgear, and the success with which the bleaching of the straw has been accomplished affects the appearance.

There are several types of comfortable sweatbands, all of which are based on the principle of providing flexibility. Avoid any hat where this band is sewed directly to the stiff crown of the hat.

A full braid straw is the best. It should be approximately a quarter of an inch wide.

In the case of Panama hats, the finer the straw the better the hat.

150 VALLEY SCOUTS ENROLL FOR CAMPS

Approximately 150 valley council boy scouts have enrolled thus far for camp periods at Chicagami on Lake Winnebago and for the new camp in the northwoods on Florence lake, according to M. G. Clark, valley scout executive. The first two periods have been filled at Camp Chicagami, but there is still room for several youngsters in the third week period. The camp will close the last week in July at which time a delegation of 44 scouts will leave for the northern camp, Mr. Clark stated.

BUILDING IN MAY INCREASED OVER MONTH OF APRIL

Building Inspector's Report Shows $300,000 Loss Over May 1929

Appleton construction work in May showed a healthy increase over that of April, but fell almost $300,000 below the total for May, 1929, according to the Straus monthly building survey. Building permits issued by John N. Welland during May aggregated $118,520, as compared to $85,235 the month before, and $432,085 in May, 1929.

Green Day's May building, valued at $179,660, had practically the same relation to the $430,707 of May, 1929, but the difference between May building and the $215,528 of April was not as marked as in Appleton. A decrease was apparent in Oshkosh, where May produced only $99,335 in permits, while April's total was $126,533, and May, 1929, yielded $278,850. In Fond du Lac there was only $21,156 in building in May, compared to $70,742 in April and $77,950 in May, 1929. At Janesville the $130,265 of May was an increase over the $68,113 of April, but a drop from the $5,650 of May, 1929.

Other totals for May were: Beloit, $60,800; Eau Claire, $56,275; Kenosha, $110,291; Madison, $480,227; Manitowish, $128,662; Milwaukee, $3,228,529; Racine $188,026; Sheboygan, $497,157; South Milwaukee, $35,460; Stevens Point, $32,274; Superior, $38,265; Waukesha, $101,580; Wausau, $37,925; Waunakee, $174,930; West Allis, $399,692; and Whitefish Bay, $194,420.

Wisconsin, with a total of $6,322,479 in construction work last month, rated ninth place on the list of 12 leading states, the highest position it has held in many months.

The total volume of permits issued in 688 cities of the country, aggregating $202,231,711, shows a loss of three per cent from the April reports. The normal seasonal trend

Season your Vegetables while Cooking with a dash of Sugar

The combination of sugar and salt improves the flavor of fresh or canned vegetables in a most surprising way. It emphasizes the mild taste of spinach; mellows the tartness of tomatoes; blends deliciously with the flavor of peas, carrots, string beans, corn, onions, cabbage and other vegetables.

Vegetables, however, are not the only class of essential foods which can be improved by this seasoning. Many cooks keep a mixture of sugar and salt within reach for use in meat stews, pot-roasts and salad dressings. Some prefer a mixture that contains equal parts of sugar and salt, but suit your taste.

Doctors and dietitians recommend the use of sugar in flavoring and seasoning, because it encourages the consumption of foods rich in vitamins, minerals and roughage. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute.
